American astronauts stepped onto the moon's surface and walked. Russia's Lunokhod rolled down a ramp, unmanned, and rolled on eight wheels across the moon, avoiding craters by remote control from earth. It is the first time the USSR beat us at our own game: putting wheels somewhere first.

Governor Smith told Temple leaders this week he thought the prospects of a medical school in that hospital center were bright.

This is encouraging not only to our neighbor city to the west. It is encouraging to Cameron's two hospitals and the Milam area which, like all non-metro areas, needs doctors.

Possibilities like internships in both of Cameron's modern hospitals are near-er with a med school and med centers so close to our excellent facilities here. Medical personnel of several kinds could be trained here on residency basis whose presence would attract permanent medical professionals.

It is encouraging to learn newsmen may not be compelled to testify before grand juries unless "a compelling public interest" is proven by judicial review.

A panel of federal judges this week in San Francisco so found in a case where a reporter for the New York Times refused to appear before a grand jury in connection with information he had received in confidence covering a story on the Black Panthers.

The reporter had been held in contempt of court because of his refusal to disclose sources in stories on the Black Panthers.

First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees freedom of press, speech, etc. If a newsmen is compelled to violate confidences before a grand jury without "compelling public need, press freedom is jeopardized.

Court ruled the reporter must appear, but "would not be required to disclose confidential associations unless the government could prove that 'compelling public interest' required disclosure.

Friend Len Cassell, retiring as head of regional public relations manager for Santa Fe Railroad, has a unique background in newspapering.

He is being cited by co-workers and members of the press Friday in Dallas. This columnist could not attend.

Len started in journalism back when dailies were numerous in San Francisco. He was city editor of one publication there and had long experience in newspaper editing before going into public relations. One report said he even started a political party onetime in volatile California politics, then stepped away from power inherent in its future.

He is another of the oldline newspapermen who retires after moving into public relations. Many of journalism's most experienced and brightest have gone that route because opportunities exceeded those of the field that was really their first love.

Growers Ready Exhibits For County Show

Milam pecan growers will participate in the county pecan show to be held Saturday at 102 West 1st St. in Cameron. Entries must be turned in by November 19 (today) County Agent J. D. Moore said, to allow for processing. Entries will consist of one quart of pecans in a plastic bag, containing the grower's name, address and the variety if known.

The entries may be left with M.S. Pugh, 613 West Cameron St. in Rockdale; the county agent's office in the Post Office building in Cameron, or with E. J. Provasek at Duncum's Implement on Highway 77, Cameron.

Contestants may pick up their entries by 3 p.m. Saturday.

The county had no pecan show last year because of the poor crop, but in the 1968 show 53 entries were counted. Winner of that year's show was Mrs. Charlie Meyer of Rt. 1, Buckholts.

Reception To Honor Maxwell

Retiring County Schools Supt. H. D. Maxwell will be honored at a reception Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Cameron Country Club.

Hosts for the affair are members of the superintendent's staff, Lillian Lester, Marie Jackson, Ida Belle Lewis, and Mary Parmelee, and new Supt.-elect Max McClaren.

Maxwell, who has served as county school superintendent for the past eight years, will retire January 1, 1971.

CISD RETIRES BONDS - School Board President Hilliard Thomas, right, and Fredwill Hornung, Board secretary, are shown signing a check for $58,788.12 from the interest and sinking fund account for the early retirement of $90,000 in Cameron ISD Building Bonds.

Officials Note Savings...

CISD Buys Own Bonds

Cameron ISD Board of Trustees and Supt. D. R. Dodson have announced the purchase of $90,000 in the school district's own bonds for $58,788.12.

Funds for the early retirement of the bonds due in 1982, 1983 and 1984, came from the CISD interest and sinking fund account.

Interest and sinking fund money can only be used to retire school bonds, Thomas and Dodson emphasized. The money comes from school taxes and incentive aid paid by the State of Texas.

Incentive aid is received for consolidation of school districts, such as with Marak and Branchville Districts, the officials explained.

"Investment of sinking fund money is restricted to purchase of bonds and savings deposits," Supt. Dodson said, "and with this investment in their own bonds the Cameron Board of Trustees were able to save $31,851.63 on the principal and $37,320 in interest on the bonds."

If the $58,788.12 were invested in U. S. Government Bonds or Time Deposits at 5, 6 or 6.5% the net saving to the District would vary from a low of $22,000 to a high of $32,000, the superintendent said.

Street Paving Program Tops Council Agenda

The City Council heard the first reading of an ordinance providing for an assessment program to pave a number of streets at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Actual paving will not start until next year, following final approval of the ordinance after a public hearing.

In other business, the Council approved a recommendation that limbs and brush be hauled to the old dump ground site, saving time and garbage pit space at the new grounds.

Councilmen also authorized Streets Supt. Hale to purchase a welding machine for repairs on city equipment, and approved rental of a car for the police chief to use until his new car is delivered.

Police Chief Martinez was authorized to purchase a marijuana and barbiturate testing kit at a cost of $18 for police department use.

Houston Operator Schedules Test In Milbur Field

The Milbur Field in south Milam County gained a new wildcat last week when a Houston operator scheduled a 3,600 foot test, ending a lull in drilling activity of several months in the field.

Howard W. Cox Jr., of Houston will drill the new wildcat, his No. 1 James Earl Kleypas. Location is on a 100 acre lease in John Dunlap Survey and northeast of production in the Milbur Field.

Cox will be the newest operator in the field, which was opened late in 1967 by the J. W. Huber Corporation's No. 2 H. H. Coffield discovery well, an 84 barrel per day producer.

Permit depth of the Kleypas is 3,600 feet, which would indicate the wildcat has the Navarro as its objective, although most of the production in the Milbur Field area is from the basal Wilcox, which lies above the Navarro formation.

By investing in its own bonds the Cameron ISD has in effect made possible the retirement of $90,000 of bonds for $58,788.12 which will reduce the total bonded indebtedness of the Cameron Independent School District to $267,000, the officials said.

Of this amount $87,671 is covered by incentive aid funds to be paid in the future by the State. This reduces the net bonded indebtedness of the district to $179,329 to be paid from local taxes.

The final payment of $29,000 on the school's bonded indebtedness will be due November 15, 1981, as a result of this purchase, Supt. Dodson said.

Milam Chosen For Pilot Loan Program

Milam County has been designated as an Economic Opportunity Loan pilot county. It will be one of 5 counties in Texas in the pilot program to aid low income rural people through loans for development or improvement of rural farm or non-farm enterprises.

Henry Gates of Nacogdoches has been appointed Economic Opportunity loan specialist for the pilot program in Milam County. He will join the staff of the Milam County office of Farmers Home Administration. He was formerly employed by Consumer Marketing Service at Nacogdoches.

Henry Ivey, FHA county supervisor, said the presently administered economic opportunity loan program is a pilot program in Texas. "If the program is successful," Ivey said, "it will be considered for a place among the regular programs administered by Farmers Home Administration."

Counties in Texas designated for this trial period are Red River, Freestone, Milam, Guadalupe and Starr.

Objective of the program is to make loans to low income farm families to improve or develop farm or nonfarm enterprises. It is designed to help generate a better income for rural families through development or improvement of enterprises that will improve the family financial situation.

The loan limit is $3,500 at 4-1/8 percent interest for a maximum period of 15 years.

DEDICATION SET FOR HOSPITAL

Dedication ceremonies for the new St. Edward Hospital are set for Sunday, December 6 at 2 p.m.

Construction on the $1 million structure to replace the pre-World War I hospital started just a little more than a year ago, after a successful drive for funds to match a $500,000 Hill-Burton grant.

Final stages of the interior work are now in progress, along with furnishings and installation of equipment.

Guest speaker for the dedication and details of the ceremonies will be released at a later date. The Herald is planning special features on the new hospital for its December 3 issue.

Grand Jury Returns Thirteen Indictments

Yoe Cagers Meet Marlin For Opener

With all-district seniors Robert Brashear and Jerry Richardson and 6-footers Ron Gilbert and Richard Johnson, the cage Yoemen open their season Saturday night at Marlin.

Coach Ron Murdock's 12-man squad includes eight lettermen back from the 1969-70 squad which went to regional for the first time in perhaps 15 years last winter.

Murdock in an early-week interview said the Yoemen split games with the Marlin Bulldogs last year. He said they had a balanced ballclub with no offense standouts.

Game time for the varsity tilt is 7:30 p.m. at Marlin High School Gym. The Yoemen travel to Robinson 8 p.m. Tuesday night for another road trip before starting the home season against Gatesville at Yoe Gym, complete with new glass backboards.

Murdock said it was possible Cameron would play another homegame with Rockdale next week, not now scheduled, but Rockdale lost an early season opponent and may agree to play here.

First basketball tournament is December 4 and 5 at Gatesville for the varsity.

A complete clip-and-save schedule for the year is on an inside page of this edition, with photos of the squad.

Murdock started practice with six guards, three forwards, one center-forward and two center candidates.

Brashear is the shotmaker from last year's squad with a 16.8 average, followed closely by center-forward Richardson with a 12-point average. Brashear was all district two years and all-tourney at Round Rock.

Richardson was second team all-district last year. Both he and Brashear are 5-10 and two-year lettermen, only ones on the squad.

One-year lettermen include guards Ken McLerran, Dean Prokisch and Mike Zajicek, junior guard Jimmy Bailey, forwards Sam Knight and Mike Zelisko.

Up from the B-team or freshman club are 6-footer center Richard Johnson, 6-2 Ron Gilbert, 5-8 guard Jack Kirk and 5-11 forward Harry Perrin.

Point averages for McLerran and Prokisch are 5 per game each, Bailey a 4.5 average and Zajicek and Knight at 3.5.

Murdock emphasized his lack of "big men" in height during a picture session when he asked the photographer to wait for Gilbert, at 6-2 the tallest on a club averaging about 5-10.

But Murdock has team experience and a couple of medium-grade cannon in Brashear and Richardson who may hit even bigger this season.

Murdock recalls substantially the same club last year decided the first half of the season wasn't so good and went on to win all but two of their last half-season's games, the second loss during the regional at Brenham's Blinn College.

The cage Yoemen have a 21-game regular season and are scheduled in three tournaments: Dec. 4-5 in Gatesville, Dec. 10-11-12 in Rockdale and Dec. 28-29 in Taylor, all for varsity only.

District contests begin January 12 against Georgetown and continue through January and February with Caldwell, Westlake, Round Rock and Elgin.

Practice sessions are underway every afternoon from 2:30 to 5:50 p.m. at Yoe Gym for the Yoe varsity, junior varsity and freshmen.

Murdock said he was cutting junior varsity candidates to a 12-man squad from 19 this week.

2 Charged With Marihuana Possession

A Milam County Grand Jury met Friday and returned thirteen indictments after hearing testimony from 17 witnesses.

There were twelve felony indictments and one misdemeanor indictment for aggravated assault.

County Attorney John B. Henderson Jr. released the following list of indictments:

Ismael Deleon Villarreal of Plano, charged with possession of marihuana in Cameron October 19, 1970;

David Herrera Molina of Sinton, charged with possession of marihuana in Cameron October 19, 1970;

Marcelino Lucio Jr. of Taylor, charged with forgery and passing in Thorndale October 27, 1970;

Ermino Yannis of Taylor, charged with forgery and passing in Thorndale October 27, 1970;

Billy Lincoln of Rockdale, charged with aggravated assault in Rockdale August 15, 1970;

Herman Schipper of Worthington, Minn., charged with felony theft (two cases) in Cameron July 1, 1970;

Lonnie Brown of Cameron, charged with burglary (two cases) in Cameron September 20, 1970;

Lonnie Brown of Cameron, charged with burglary in Cameron September 21, 1970;

Alfred Aguilion of Cameron, DWI - subsequent offense in Cameron July 26, 1970;

Murlin Louis Johnson of Cameron, charged with theft by bailie in Cameron September 15, 1970;

Ernest M. Adamson of Copperas Cove, DWI - subsequent offense in Cameron, November 11, 1970.

Foreman of the Grand Jury was Glenn Hodges of Rockdale and Mrs. Barbara Gerza of Ben Arnold was secretary. Jurors were J. L. Lamkin of Marlow, H. M. Yager of Maysfield, Edwin Falke of Thorndale, Jack L. Crane of Rockdale, Ellie Mae Lovelady of Rockdale, Milton C. Wise of Gause, Frank Nelson of Milano, E. J. Provasek of Cameron, Melvin Hirt of Thorndale and Glenn R. Henderson of Rockdale.

County 'Poor Farm' Ends Chapter

The final chapter closed on the Milam County Poor Farm last week when county commissioners approved leasing of the 63 1/2 acres to Timmy Tucker for one year.

The Poor Farm, located on Austin Street in West Cameron, has been a refuge for the homeless since 1883 when the county bought the property from Joe T. Arnold. The county paid Arnold $1,100 for the land 87 years ago. They will lease it to Tucker for $556 a year.

The farm has dropped from a population of 23 in 1949 to its present 3 elderly occupants. They will move to the Cameron Housing Unit when it is completed and the J. A. Cryers, who have managed the farm for 21 years will move to their home on N. Central.

When the poor farm opened it was the only form of welfare available for needy individuals. Residents helped raise their own food in the fields, and often, if they died at the home, were buried in the pasture. Need for the home was almost eliminated in recent years with welfare reforms, old age pension, social security and public housing.

When the Cryers moved there in December 1949 the name was changed from the Poor Farm to Milam County Home. At that time there were 4 houses on the property. The Cryers kept a vegetable garden and occupants of the home helped care for it. Mrs. Cryer prepared three meals a day for the home's occupants, shopped for their daily needs and medicine. "We think our work out here has been worthwhile," Mrs. Cryer said, "but we are looking forward to moving to our own home."

She said the home had been a refuge for older men in recent years, but recalled that they had raised one child at the home. "The mother and her baby about 5 months old, were brought out here on a cold, rainy day. They had been

RETIRING - The J. A. Cryers, who have managed the County Home on North Austin for 21 years, will retire next month when the home closes. The property, a refuge for the needy since 1883, has been leased by Tim Tucker and the three occupants will move to the Cameron Housing Units.

'71 Housing To Increase....

Reports indicate a housing boom in some parts of the United States is due in 1971.

With what is underway around Milam County in rural home construction, possibilities in Cameron and other area communities, it could well be the year when housing needs are getting proper attention.

Whether largest city or smallest rural community, housing represents a major problem which may be alleviated by a reduced prime rate of one-quarter percent, the first reduction since 1967, setting an example for new business development and therefore housing for people and industry.

New York, the largest American city, this year was short more than 100,000 housing unit starts, either apartment or single-family dwelling. Scaled down, communities the size of Cameron would be proportionately as short of housing.

Predictions like this used to mean only greater housing in the metropolitan areas. But with ideas like building entirely new cities and incentives for relocation of industry to smaller established cities, a projection for more new housing should mean the non-metro areas as well.

With Cameron Housing Authority's 50 units about 95 percent complete and a waiting list even before the additional units are open, it is encouraging to see projections for new housing in 1971.

Freshman Legislators Are Told Some Sobering News

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
Freshman state legislators received some sobering news in their first orientation conference before the legislative halls open on January 12.

About 30 legislative newcomers turned out for the two-day schooling in the capital city. Major state officials and agency heads functioned in the role of professors.

In addition to warnings that money and legislative redistricting problems lie ahead, young lawmakers got word that welfare cuts are virtually certain early next year.

Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney reported this grim news on the plight of his agency. He announced that "unless an emergency appropriation is made early in the upcoming legislative session, we still face the prospect of cuts in Aid to Families with Dependent Children and/or medical assistance in the first few months of 1971."

Commissioner Hackney added that "even with an appropriation that would take us up to the annual ceiling on state money for public assistance, we can predict the need for a cut in AFDC grants by June if the rolls continue to grow as they have."

Texas' constitution sets a ceiling of $80 million for financial assistance to welfare beneficiaries. Hackney said he has asked $96 million for fiscal 1972 just to cover the present level of public assistance checks.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher urged the freshmen to utilize the formula of "knowledge, cooperation and understanding" in the work ahead.

Further schooling for lawmakers is ahead at a University of Texas special orientation program.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court has agreed with the federal court's finding that three key sections of Texas' obscenity law are constitutional. But it skipped ruling on two other sections and ordered the Wichita Falls court to move ahead with its case against a theater showing "stag" movies.

In other rulings last week, the high court held that:

* In spite of mandatory retirement provisions of the constitution, retired judges over 75 may be assigned to hear special litigation and be paid as "visiting judges."

* Appeal of an Abilene attorney whose license was suspended after conviction for conspiracy to defraud should be turned down.

* Judgment of $600,000 favoring a Dallas bank in a loan dispute with a Denton County man is valid.

* It should hear on January 13 the Getty Oil Company appeal from a lower court finding that the firm must lower its pumping units which are interfering with the irrigation system of a Gaines County farmer.

A Garland widow should get a hearing on December 16 on her suit to collect $20,000 in life insurance on her deceased husband.

* Court of Criminal Appeals refused to lower the 99-year prison sentence given a San Angelo man in a car-bomb killing.

* A Dallas woman should not be jailed for contempt for not complying with a court order to deliver obscene film over which she had no control.

COURT APPOINTMENTS

Gov. Preston Smith soon will have two appointments to make to the state's highest courts.

Judge Clyde E. Smith, 73, of Woodville has announced that he will resign his seat on the State Supreme Court on December 31.

In his letter of resignation, Judge Smith urged state constitutional revision of the judiciary system -- or at least thorough overhaul -- to make it possible for a central authority to force under worked judges to go where they are needed to equalize case-loads.

After January 1, the Governor also must name a successor to Judge John F. Olson Jr. of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Next year the San Antonio judge moves up to presiding judge of the Appeals Court, vacating the seat he held as a regular court member since 1967.

Two years remain in the terms of both these judges.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held that a person calling for a local option wet-dry election in a subdivision that has not held one in a year is not required to make a deposit with the county clerk. . . and any such deposit collected should be refunded.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Banking corporation stock, in a firm not doing business in the state on January 1, 1970 is not taxable for ad valorem tax purposes for 1970.

* Texarkana is not disqualified for an airport building grant from Texas Aeronautics Commission because it owns an airport facility jointly with Texarkana, Arkansas.

* Current Texas Tourist Development Board Chairman remains in office until the expiration of his term as a board member. Board will then elect a new chairman.

* Harrison County Commissioners Court can pay for the defense of its sheriff and two deputies in a civil rights action filed in South Dakota.

* A corporation doing business as a detective agency must file a surety bond or insurance policy with the Secretary of State.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

To get my mind off some bills needing to be paid last night I turned to a newspaper I'd been saving and found an article that made me feel better immediately.

According to it, 93 nations are in debt to the United States, have been for years, and very few are even keeping up with the interest. In fact, the last time the government figured out the interest was in 1965, when somebody did it apparently just to be doing, you know, busy work, and it amounted to $20,691,309,517.10. Nobody is quite sure what the total of interest and principal is and nobody really wants to know, since most of it will never be paid.

Anyway, it runs into the billions of dollars and the reason it's not being re-paid is that all 93 nations are head over heels in debt to themselves, aren't taking in enough tax money to meet their own budgets.

In fact, there's not a country on earth that's not going further and further in debt, including the United States, and I got to wondering.

What happens when the whole world goes broke? Who forecloses and what does he do with it when he gets it? Auction it off?

I can see the ads now: "To be sold at public auction: 210 re-possessed nations, a few demonstrators models, all on an as-is, where-is basis. All terms cash. Seller makes no warranties as to the condition or working order of any of these items."

You can see this would be a holy mess and something ought to be done to head it off. We can't allow the whole world to lose its credit rating.

I'm going to give it some serious thought, just as soon as I get out from under my own debts and get some free time to think. Don't wait on me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"No Pets Allowed"

When the Scotts rented a new apartment, they took it for granted that their dog Rover would be as welcome as they were. But soon after they moved in, the landlord called their attention to the "No Pets Allowed" clause in their lease.

Unwilling to give up either the dog or the apartment, the Scotts determined to fight. In a court hearing, they offered this argument to the judge:

"Rover happens to be a quiet, well-behaved animal who never bothers a soul and never does any damage. Of course, if he should cause trouble, we would gladly take full responsibility. But in the meantime, enforcing this no-pets rule against us would be arbitrary and unfair."

Nevertheless, the court held they would have to abide by the rule or move out. The judge said a landlord may reasonably be concerned not only about noise, but also about the likelihood that other tenants might want to keep pets too.

Generally speaking, the law gives a landlord broad discretion with regard to pets on the premises. In fact, even if no restrictions are spelled out in the lease, he may still be able to take legal action.

Thus, another landlord won an eviction order against an elderly woman who harbored no less than 25 cats in her small apartment. Even though pets were not mentioned in the lease, the court said 25 cats were—simply as a matter of common sense—"23 cats too many."

On the other hand, a landlord may lose his enforcement rights by "going easy" on a tenant for a substantial period. In one case, a landlord tried to evict a tenant after permitting him to keep a parrot for almost four years.

In these circumstances, the landlord was held to have waived the rights he had under the lease. The court said that, even though the lease plainly said "No Pets Allowed," the landlord's inaction spoke louder than words.

WHAT OTHERS SAY. . .

Ancient Voyagers

The dispute between Italians and Scandinavians over who really discovered America, Christopher Columbus or Leif Ericson, may be irrelevant. All sorts of theories concerning possible earlier discoveries by men from Europe, Africa and Asia have been advanced in recent years, some with credible supporting evidence.

Professor Cyrus H. Gordon of Brandeis University has produced the latest claim to pre-Columbian and pre-Ericsonian exploration of the New World by Old World men. The inscription on a stone found in a burial site in eastern Tennessee 85 years ago, he says, has been found, when examined right side up, to contain letters similar to those used by Jews of the Roman period. This may indicate, he believes, that Jews fleeing the Romans crossed the Atlantic.

This is not as far-fetched as it may seem at first glance. The Phoenecians, who lived along the coast of modern Israel and Syria, had developed navigation to a high point as early as 600 B.C. when their biremes and triremes, ships with two and three rows of oars, sailed into the Atlantic as far away as England. Such ships could have crossed the ocean to America.

Thor Heyerdahl, the Norwegian explorer who believes people drifted across the seas from Africa to America and from America to the South Pacific, has proved his point by accomplishing similar voyages with his reed boat Ra II and his raft Kon Tiki. But even such trips were not the first to America. Scientists generally agree that the first inhabitants of America came from Asia by way of a land or ice bridge across the Bering Strait.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

U.S. FARMERS CALLED SUPERSALESMEN

SENATOR HENRY L. BELLMON (Okla.) "...The country of Japan was honored at a luncheon given by the NATIONAL GRAIN AND FEED ASSOCIATION because of the unique position Japan has achieved in becoming the FIRST BILLION-DOLLAR MARKET FOR U.S. AGRICULTURE PRODUCTS. . . ."

"I asked unanimous consent that the remarks of Ambassador Ushiba. . . be printed in the Record. (Excerpts follow.)

I am happy that my first public speech after arriving in Washington is at an event to commemorate such a significant milestone, the fact that Japan has become the first billion-dollar customer for the United States agriculture.

While in one sense Japan is the honoree today, the real honorees are the American farmers and their (as I would call them) "SUPERSALESMEN." American agriculture in a number of commodities is competitive in price and quality, and importantly for Japan, on a continuing basis.

As the affluence of the Japanese consumer increases, the demand for more and better increases. For example, present per capita consumption of red meat is only 17 pounds per year. To grow more red meat, more grain, mostly from the United States will be necessary. Bread is another item of increasing importance in the Japanese diet, increasing the demand for wheat. The market for soybeans, your biggest agriculture export item is also expanding in Japan.

Your agriculture marketing experts, many of whom are present at this luncheon, have served the Japanese market well. Their innovative ideas, such as the promotion of the livestock and poultry industries as a means of increasing demand for United States feed grains, have contributed to the increased sales of American agriculture products in Japan.

In the first seven months of 1970, according to the United States Department of Commerce figures, United States exports TO JAPAN are up 46 percent and imports FROM JAPAN are UP 18 percent compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year. THE 46 PERCENT INCREASE IN SALES TO JAPAN IS MORE THAN TWICE THE 20 PERCENT AVERAGE INCREASE IN AMERICAN EXPORTS TO ALL COUNTRIES.

I want to note that your "supersalesmen" have not been content with reaching the goal of selling $1 billion worth of agriculture products to Japan. They exceeded it by over $100 million. It seems to me that they are well on their way to selling Japan $2 billion worth of American farm products.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The farmer has a big stake in the game of possible import restrictions on Japanese textiles. During the 1960's soybean shipments to Japan increased 115 percent; wheat 120 percent and feed grains more than 400 percent. American agriculture has earned the tag, "supersalesmen." —J.C.

WHOSE FARM IS THIS? - The Herald still has some of the aerial photos of Milam County farms and ranches taken in 1958. The photos are unidentified, so we invite our readers who recognize a place shown to come in and claim the picture - no charge.

County Agent's Notes ...

Agent Gives Tips For November

By J. D. Moore

Don't forget to bring your pecan entries in for the county Pecan and Food Show to be held at 102 East 1st Street in Cameron on November 21.

The entries should be in by November 19 to be processed for the show. Exhibitors may have their pecans for home use. Entries must be picked up by 3 p.m. the day of the show.

WARNING SYSTEM ADVISED

W. S. Allen, engineer at A&M reminds swine, poultry, turkey, and greenhouse tomato producers who are operating under present day confinement method that a warning system to alert them to power failures is a good investment.

Such a system, he adds, could easily mean the difference between success and failure of the farm enterprise. An emergency system has been developed and is operated from a 6-volt fence controller battery, he says.

CHEAP SOIL NO BARGAIN

During the next few weeks many home-owners will be bringing in top soil to fill in low spots in the lawn or flower beds or in connection with establishing new lawns.

Many homeowners have found that bringing in top soil adds to their gardening problems because it contained unwanted weeds, insects and plant diseases.

Rich looking river bottom soils are frequently infested with nutgrass and other hard to kill weeds as well as being a source of nematode infection.

It may cost more to get the best available, but in the long run the use of good fill soil should prove to be the cheapest.

SOIL TEST ADVISED

You can't look at a soil and tell if it is able to supply the nutrients needed for top crop production.

The selection of the proper fertilizer depends upon a knowledge of the nutrient needs of the crop to be grown and the nutrient - supplying power of the soil on which it is to be grown.

Determining the nutrient needs of crops is comparable in many ways to diagnosing human ills, says the county agent. A medical doctor observes the patient, obtains all the information possible by questions, and then makes certain tests.

Similarly, alert producers can test soil to determine its ability to feed plants a balanced diet. A soil test saves money by showing them how to put the "right" amount of the "right" plant nutrients on the "right" field.

Now is a good time to take soil samples from fields where harvesting has been completed.

Early soil testing must be done in order for a successful application of the right kind of fertility program.

Plan Landscaping With New Home

Building a new home soon? If so, be sure to allow for the cost of landscape development, advises Everett E. Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

This includes such items as grading, drive, patio, retaining walls, screen fences and walls, plantings, and professional services.

Under average conditions, the landscape budget should be between 10 to 20 percent of the cost of the house and lot. This does not include the cost of such features as a swimming pool or tennis court.

"When a new home has concrete blocks for walks, a loose gravel drive, and a Burfordholly on each corner, it doesn't mean that it has been landscaped," said Janne. "In fact, it appears as though the owner ran out of funds before he finished because he didn't plan ahead."

The ideal procedure is to plan the house and ground as a unit before construction begins. In this way, the house can be designed to fit the site with a minimum of grading or cutting and filling of soil.

This results in a better use of the site and makes it easier to provide a close relationship between the indoor and outdoor areas.

Other factors to consider in developing the site are the views, topography, seasonal wind directions, sun angles, space usage, both inside and outside the house, and legal building restrictions.

The less the site must be changed, the better use one can make of existing features and still achieve unity in the total landscape design.

All too often the house design is chosen with no thought as to the lot on which it is to be located. Consequently, many valuable and irreplaceable trees and other landscape features must be removed to make room for the house.

With coordinated planning of the house and lot, destruction of existing beauty can usually be eliminated.

Everyone Has A Stake In Observing Farm-City Week

ASCS NEWS

By Alva E. Sanders

COLLEGE STATION
The period from Nov. 20-26 is National Farm-City Week and every citizen has a stake in its observance. Nowhere else in the world, points out Chas. K. Baker, Extension economist, do so many depend on so few for their food and fiber needs.

SCS

Why should people living in the city be concerned with soil erosion? Erosion is usually thought of as a problem of the farmer, but erosion affects all people.

In order to understand how erosion affects people, we need to know what it is. Soil erosion is the movement of soil, by wind or water, from one area to another. This in itself does not sound too serious.

But the problem arises when this movement becomes excessive and the soil is deposited in an area where it is unwanted. For example, when flood waters pick up valuable top soil from a corn field and deposit it in the living room of your home.

The soil which is moved or washed out of a field is usually the top soil. Because this is the most productive part of the soil, these fields are robbed of their production potentials. This will result in lower crop yields and eventually the increase in food costs.

When soil is removed from the field by water, it becomes a pollutant of streams and lakes. Water pollution is a widely discussed subject today but few people realize that soil particles are one of the major pollutants.

Polluted water is unfit for drinking and swimming and is also unattractive. Fish living in muddy waters are usually not as active as fish in clean water. If soil or sediment becomes too heavy, some of the fish may be killed.

As the muddy water travels down a stream it may flow into a lake or pond. As this happens, the water will stand still and the sediment will fall out of the water filling the lake with mud. As can be seen, if this continually reoccurs over a period of time, the life of the lake will drastically be reduced.

Water pollution, flood damage, and reduced crop yields are problems which affect both rural and urban people. The Soil Conservation Service working in cooperation with the Soil & Water Conservation District, is dedicated to overcoming these problems. For more information on what is being done about these problems and how you might help, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.

The 5 percent of our population engaged in agricultural production gives the other 95 percent benefits unsurpassed anywhere, says Baker.

In 1969 we spent only 16.5 percent of our incomes for food as compared with 24 percent some 20 years ago and this despite the fact the producer is getting about 9 cents less out of every food dollar than he received 20 years ago.

Too, notes Baker, production expenses have continued to rise, thus, keeping the cost-price squeeze a major problem for agricultural producers.

Our producers, says Baker, are continually searching for better and more efficient ways to keep the food and fiber supply lines filled.

Today the U.S. farmer produces enough food and fiber for 45 people, about 39 at home and 6 abroad. A decade ago he supplied the agricultural needs of only 24 people.

Other problems of common interest to farm and city residents are also cited by President Nixon in his Farm-City Week proclamation.

He said, "With two-thirds of our population crowded onto only two percent of the land, many of our people are ended economic opportunities, adequate living space, health, cultural fulfillment, and those spiritual values without which no nation can achieve greatness.

"The time for action is at hand - for careful plans to be formulated, and for decisions to be made at local governmental levels, to foster the improved distribution of population and accompanying economic activity needed during the decade of the 1970's and beyond. The Government can provide assistance, but the effort will succeed only as Americans take part in developing a policy of sound national growth.

"In this effort, city dwellers and rural people alike have reason to work together toward common goals. The well-being of urban America and the welfare of rural America will increasingly intertwine as our total population expands. Better living in the one depends on better living in the other.

"I request that leaders of agricultural organizations, business groups, labor unions, youth and women's clubs, civic and fraternal associations, schools and others join in noting not only the interdependent roles of the producers and consumers of America's agricultural abundance but also their opportunities for cooperation in building for the future."

Baker notes that Farm-City Week observances in Texas will follow no set pattern but the objective of all will be the same - to help rural and urban residents understand each others problems and further develop the appreciation each should have for the other.

In other words, he says, we just couldn't get along without each other.

Farmers who are installing practices under the 1970 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) are reminded that the work must be substantially completed on or before December 31 in order to be eligible for payment under the program.

If a farmer does not finish his ACP work by the end of the year, the County ASCS Office cannot make the cost-share payment.

Winter weather has arrived, and in past years it has sometimes prevented farmers from completing their conservation cost-sharing practices. It is hoped that it will not happen this year. That is why farmers are being urged to concentrate on completing their practices as soon as possible.

When approving a conservation cost-sharing practice the County ASCS Committee sets a completion date - and most farmers finish and report their work in good time.

If circumstances prevent completion by the date set, a time extension can be granted.

However, an extended completion time cannot be granted beyond December 31st. So this is the main point farmers should keep in mind - ACP work must be substantially completed this calendar year.

FARM NEWS

THINGS ARE CHANGING

A new and more efficient system of livestock marketing is emerging in the U.S. and the announcement regarding the closing of the Chicago Stockyards is the first evidence, reports Dr. Wm. E. Black, Extension economist.

HEN'S PERFORMANCE

Texas A&M University research shows that body weight can have more effect on laying hen performance than rations. The findings came out of Poultry Science Department's 500-day, second genotype environment performance test. Bill Doran was in charge of the test.

WORTH NOTING

Cash receipts from farm marketing in 1969 totaled around $47 billion, of which $28 billion came from livestock and livestock products and $19 billion from crops. The total in 1950 was only $28 billion. The increase since 1950 stems almost entirely from a substantially larger volume of farm products marketed, since prices received by farmers in 1969 averaged just slightly higher than 20 years ago. The bill for farm production expenses added up to $38.6 billion in 1969, about double that of 1950. In 1969, production expenses got 71 cents of each gross income dollar.

If you think you've caught a large black bass, consider the known world's record of 22 pounds 4 oz. caught in 1932.

The Easy, Practical Way To Extra Range-Feeding Dividends!

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement

... saves time and work ... reduces labor costs drastically. One trip to fill the T-E feeder takes care of 75 to 100 head up to 10 days. No need to run to the pasture every day with cake or cubes. T-E Liquid Feed eliminates loss from waste or spillage ... cows can't tromp it into the ground.

T-E Liquid Feed provides the supplement cattle and sheep need and helps them utilize the available forage. It contains urea, molasses, high grade phosphoric acid, vitamins, trace minerals and other additives. Only the formula from which T-E Liquid Feed is made inhibits urea to slow down and pace its conversion into protein so that animals get maximum benefit from it.

You can depend on T-E Liquid Feed to give your herd an extra measure of good health at substantial savings. You'll see clearer eyes, better hair coat, more bloom that buyers like. You'll see more consistent estrus, better conception, easier calving, fewer abortions and stillborns and larger calves dropped and weaned.

Dec. 6 Race

COLLEGE STATION

The Board of Directors of Texas International Speedway announced in Dallas that the "Fallstaff Grand National 400" NAS-CAR Grand National Stock Car Race scheduled for December 6, 1970, has been cancelled.

Additional time is needed to work out the necessary refinancing of the corporation which precludes the promotional effort to put on the racing show Texas race fans are entitled to see.

The Board indicated that they have worked out a tentative refinancing program which will require several weeks to finalize.

Ticket refund details have not been worked out as yet. However, as soon as information is available, ticket holders will be advised.

Home ownership and improvement are first-rate investments. A San Francisco study indicates that home prices there have risen an average of 7.5 per cent, compounded annually, over the past ten years.

Owner occupants spent $6.1 billion for additions, alterations and major replacements to their homes in 1969, estimates the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Badgers End Season In 34-14 Win Over Jarrell

The Buckholts Badgers crushed the Jarrell Cougars here at Cougar Field by a score of 34-14 in a district six-man football game.

The Badgers opened the scoring as Steve Mendoza ran 5 yards for the touchdown. Mendoza then passed to Richard Kudlacek for the extra point.

Jarrell marched back and scored when Billy Wiley caught a 22 yard pass from Darrell Bamsch. Bamsch kicked the extra point.

Jarrell led 8-7 but not for long as the Badgers scored again when Gordon Haisler passed to Kudlacek for a 60 yard run and pass combination. The PAT failed. The score at half was Buckholts ahead of Jarrell 13-8.

The second half began as Buckholts scored on a 29 yard run by Mendoza. Haisler passed to Kudlacek for the PAT. Jarrell came back to score their last touchdown as Ken Salyer ran from one yard out. The PAT failed. The third quarter ended with the Badgers on top 20-14.

The fourth quarter was all Buckholts as the Badgers played hard defense not letting Jarrell score. The Badgers also played good offense as they scored 14 points.

The first touchdown for the Badgers was on a 12 yard pass to Larry Orsag from Haisler. The PAT failed.

Haisler tackled Jarrell's ball carrier in the end zone for a safety and two points for Buckholts. The Badgers last touchdown came when Haisler threw a pass to Kudlacek for 50 yards. The PAT failed. The game ended with the Badgers winning 34-14.

The Badgers ended the season with a 2-7 record and district with a 2-2 record.

PATTERNS... RIGHT ON

Zig Zag knows where it's going, and it's heading up the 70's with a design that recalls the Thirties but is just right for the space age! Bates has taken stripes and given them a fresh viewpoint that says a lot about environment. Tones of pinks and purples are very much "now" for teens, while the brown combination will make any man a king. Best of all, Zig Zag is machine wash-and-dry, no ironing required, making every housewife a queen.

NEW YORK (ED)—What's hot in home fashions? Prints are hot, in smashing color combinations. Patterns have pizzazz and the chicest homes are sporting them on walls, floors, beds and tables. Some of the patterns are big and bold, others are small and abstract, but all of them give a fresh, sizzling look to homes.

Prints are such an easy way to decorate a room. Just pick a print—any print—and then use the colors in it to do the whole room. The darker color will usually serve as the color for your carpet while some of the medium values are excellent for wall and drapery colors, plus upholstery. Save the light, bright values for accents such as lamps and other accessories like throw pillows. Just make sure you pick a print!

Social Scene

'Baubles, Bangles' For Fleur de Lis Workshop On Yule Wreath

'Baubles, Bangles and Beads' was the theme for the Pleasure and Profit Club when they met at the home of Mrs. Joe Heitman on November 12.

Mrs. Heitman had objects displayed throughout the house illustrating her talk on Christmas decorating. In the foyer was a 3 ft. golden angel that she had made.

The Three Wise Men in both modern and contemporary design were placed in the living room along with the Christmas bird cage, traditional wreath with candle and card container.

In the dining room were displayed the holiday aprons, Christmas tree skirt, placemats, wastebaskets, tissue holders, candle holders, hot pads - all of Mrs. Heitman's creation.

Three new members were welcomed into the club: Mrs. Joe Walzel, Mrs. Billy Quiram and Mrs. Paul Young.

Mrs. Walter Lester, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. A. Bowling. Minutes of the previous two meetings were read and approved. Eighteen members were present.

Refreshments of pecan pie, stuffed dates and spiced tea were served. 'Baubles, Bangles and Beads' treasurers were examined during the social hour.

Next meeting for the Pleasure and Profit Club will be November 19 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Looney. Mrs. H. M. Yager will serve as co-hostess.

CCTA Has Nov. Meeting

The Cameron Classroom Teachers Association met in the Cameron Junior High Library on Monday, November 9.

Plans were discussed for the December meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Ola Devine gave a report of the House of Delegates of District VI, Texas State Teachers Association.

Fleur de Lis Workshop On Yule Wreath

Mrs. J. J. Heitman was guest speaker for the Fleur de Lis Garden Club meeting and workshop last week.

The club met at the home of Mrs. Alvis Coleman. Mrs. William Kelm and Mrs. Roy Coufal were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Heitman described the variety of holiday wreaths, including fruit, pine cones, berries and traditional green. She also showed club members the steps to successful permanent Christmas wreaths and demonstrated techniques of cutting cones and attaching ornaments to the strofoam forms.

Mrs. Jim Camp club president, presided at the business meeting.

Following the business meeting and program the hostesses served dessert and coffee.

BPW Club Has Program

The Cameron Business and Professional Womens Club met Monday evening in the BPW Clubhouse at Milam and 4th Street. Mrs. Sam Houston presided at the brief business meeting.

A program on Christmas gifts, decorations and traditions was presented by Miss Christine Laws. She also showed gifts that she had brought back from her trip to Panama.

Mrs. Logan McWilliams, hostess for the meeting, served a salad plate and hot punch following the program.

Reunion For Class Of '40

The Yoe High School class of 1940 will have its thirty-year reunion at the Cameron Country Club Saturday, November 28. It will be the first reunion for this class since 1965 when the group voted enthusiastically to meet again in 1970.

Mrs. Robert M. Clark, who is making local arrangements for the reunion, said "We will have a dinner and time to exchange memories and enjoy the company of old friends." She asked that any member of the class that had not been contacted please write her at 712 E. 12th St., Cameron, or telephone 697-2654.

"We promise a delightful dinner, dance and an evening of fun," Mrs. Clark said.

HALF-TIME BUFFET TO PLEASE THE FOOTBALL FANS

BUILD A BUFFET around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're "football's own" seems to add a special savor to game-watching afternoons. A culinary game plan includes cheese and cracker snacks, boneless ham, salad, a sweet-treat pie and mugs of steaming hot coffee. All good game-time eating!

NEW YORK (ED)—Football may be a rugged sport, but your entertaining of the fans can be easy fun-and-games. To please the heartiest appetites, build a half-time buffet around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're football's official foods seems to add a special savor to simple good eating.

A buffet that leaves you time to watch the game, too, is built around ham with purple plum sauce. Cook Hormel Cure #1 Ham as package directs. Serve hot or cold; either way, it's extra-special with the savory sauce. Serve with cheese and crackers, a banana-rich salad, hot mugs

The Wise Wife's Football Glossary

Take it from a generation of "football widows": you can't fight the fans, so you might as well join 'em. The wise hostess knows her way around football as well as around her kitchen. To impress the man of your house (and get more out of game-watching yourself), start with a quick brush-up on the pass patterns—the basic language of football.

Down-and-out: Receiver runs down the field and turns out to sideline.

Down-and-in: Receiver runs down the field and turns in to the center.

Sprint-out: Passer sprints out to side as if it's going to be a running play, and then he passes.

of coffee and the family's favorite whipped cream-y pie. You'll get the applause at half-time—instead of the marching bands!

PURPLE PLUM SAUCE FOR HAM

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) purple plums
2 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/2 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. Chiffon Soft-Type Margarine

Drain plums and reserve syrup. Cut plums into small pieces. In a saucepan, mix cornstarch, salt, cinnamon and allspice. Gradually stir in syrup. Boil one minute, stirring constantly. Stir in lemon juice, Chiffon and plums. Transfer sauce to gravy boat and spoon over slices of ham. Makes 3/4 cups.

BANANA BLITZ SALAD

2 Chiquita Bananas, sliced
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 seedless grapes, halved
1 cup pineapple chunks
2 oranges, sectioned

Sprinkle lemon juice over banana slices and combine with the grapes, pineapple chunks and orange sections. Line a bowl or platter with lettuce and arrange fruit in the center. Serve with any tart salad dressing. Makes about 4 1/2 cups, or six to eight servings.

Holiday Show Workshop For Civic Garden Club

Mrs. Leo Fuchs was hostess at her home for members of the Civic Garden Club when they met for their regular monthly meeting on last Thursday morning. During the social hour the hostess offered blue berry muffins and kalachas with coffee.

The program for the day was a workshop on flower arranging and Mrs. Milton J. Falkner, a student flower show judge, presented the A, B, C, in Flower Arranging. For the benefit of new members in the club, in preparation for the forth coming Christmas flower show, Mrs. Falkner gave special emphasis to mechanics, containers, materials, conditioning of materials, designs and assembling the arrangements.

Afterwards the group individually constructed various flower arrangements and constructive criticism was offered by the speaker, Mrs. Falkner.

The president, Mrs. Milton J. Falkner also presided for a short business session. Mrs. Leo L. Fuchs, schedule chairman for the flower show, "Christmas Wonder" distributed the schedules and commented on the various classes offered. The show will be held on December 9 and Mrs. Sam Houston is serving as general chairman.

Mrs. Nona H. Lindsay was welcomed to the club as a new member.

The club members observed a brief memorial service in memory of a charter member, Mrs. R. G. Grabelin, and voted to make a contribution to place her name in the Memorial Book, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., headquarters, Fort Worth, Texas.

Henderson To Head
County Ex-Students
CLASP Program

County Attorney John B. Henderson Jr. has been named chairman of the Milam County Texas Ex-Students' CLASP program. CLASP is the College Loyalty Alumni Support Program which provides funds for the University which cannot be obtained through state funds. As chairman of this important committee, Henderson will head a campaign to solicit funds to insure real academic distinction in teaching, research and service to the state and nation. The appointment was made jointly by the president of the Milam County Ex-Students' Association and by the state president, Dan M. Krause of Dallas.

Methodist Home
Plans Boys Ranch

WACO The Board of Directors of Methodist Home has instructed the Program Committee of the Board and Methodist Home officials to "begin immediate plans for the development of a boys ranch program" as another new facility in the Home's expanding child-care program. The boys ranch will be located about 12 miles from the Methodist Home campus on a 1,500-acre tract of land already owned by Methodist Home. Located about half-way between Waco and Valley Mills on Highway Six, the land is on a beautiful picturesque area on both sides of the highway and stretching down to the Bosque River.

Boys Ranch at Gore, Okla. and other similar facilities will be considered in the planning and construction of this yet-to-be-named facility. Probably, some 15 teen-age boys would live in each home unit built. Methodist Home is supported by Methodist churches throughout Texas and New Mexico and cares for children from these two states. The Methodist Home "family of 465 children" includes some 340 on campus, 100 in foster homes and 25 attending college.

Currently under construction on the east portion of the campus in Waco is a $1,500,000 Guidance Center, scheduled for opening in May or June of 1971.

Completion of the Guidance Center and the boys ranch will make Methodist Home one of the most complete child-care centers in the nation.

Possums, which long have lived in Texas, now are braving the cold of the north and are found even in New England.

Of all small game, the squirrel ranks second only to the rabbit in hunter popularity. And it is

SEN. YARBOROUGH

Dinner To Honor Sen.
Yarborough

United States Senator Ralph W. Yarborough will be honored with a "Homecoming" - "Bienvenida" Texas Appreciation Dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening, December 15, at the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

Austin attorney Creekmore Fath is service as general chairman for the dinner which is being sponsored by the "Friends of Ralph Yarborough" - "Los Amigos de Ralph Yarborough." Fath announced that Governor Preston Smith is honorary chairman of the sponsors committee and former Ambassador Edward Clark of Austin is the active chairman of the sponsors committee.

"In order to accommodate those who live within easy driving distance of Austin, the dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. and the last item on the evening's program will be over at 9:10 p.m.," Fath said.

Tickets for the dinner will be $5 per person and are available from "The Friends of Ralph Yarborough" - "Los Amigos de Ralph Yarborough," P. O. Box 1000, Austin, Texas 78767.

"I anticipate an overflow crowd for the dinner," Fath said, "since this is the first such function to be held in Austin for Senator Yarborough in over seven years."

Junior Play,
Supper Set
Fri. & Sat.

The Yoe High Junior Class will present "A Date With Judy" Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20 and 21 in the Ben Milam Cafetorium.

Curtain time for both performances will be 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for the play are on sale from class representatives and will also be sold at the door. Prices are 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Immediately preceding Friday night's performance there will be a spaghetti supper also sponsored by the YHS Juniors. Serving will start at 5 p.m. in Ben Milam Cafetorium and will continue until 7.

Advance tickets only will be sold for the supper and may be purchased from class members at 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

Post Office Outlines Dates
For Early Christmas Mail

Postmaster Narvie L. Caperton today urged residents of Cameron to "try to remember" that recommended mailing dates for civilian domestic Christmas mails start the first of December.

The national Christmas "Mail Early" theme this year, he explained, is based on the familiar musical tune "Try to Remember" - and is featured in public service radio and TV announcements.

"The idea," Caperton said, "is to have our customers remember recommended mailing dates. This will insure fast and efficient delivery of parcels and cards and prevent disappointments for friends and family members. Of course, it will also be a big help to your post office."

The suggested latest dates by which Christmas mail should be deposited are as follows, but the postmaster urged customers to mail earlier wherever possible:

Domestic mails, except Alaska and Hawaii - Distant states, parcels Dec. 1 and greeting cards Dec. 10. Local and nearby areas, parcels Dec. 11 and cards Dec. 15.

Alaska and Hawaii: Surface mail Nov. 30 for parcels and Dec. 4 for cards; Air Mail Dec. 14 for parcels and Dec. 14, cards.

In addition, Postmaster Caperton noted several key dates applying for civilian international mail, as follows:

To Canada and Mexico - surface parcels Dec. 4; cards Dec. 9 and air parcels Dec. 16.

To South and Central America - cards Nov. 18 and air parcels Dec. 14.

These same dates apply for the various types of mail for Europe. Earlier, Caperton announced deadlines required on military mail going overseas - Nov. 6 for surface parcels, Nov. 20 for "SAM" and Nov. 27 for "PAL."

Further details on these basic parcel services for the military, as well as dates applying for other mailings to servicemen are also available at the post office.

Report Shows Milam Is
176th Among Oil Counties

Milam County's petroleum industry produces 140,124 barrels of crude oil valued at $449,692 and 16,048 thousand cubic feet of natural gas valued at $2,199 for an annual economic value of $451,891.

These figures, just released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, show the county ranked 176th among state counties in oil and gas production during 1969.

Texas production which has registered an increase over each previous year during the past decade hit another all-time high in 1969 with 1,151,775,000 barrels, according to U.S. Bureau of Mines statistics. This is a production increase of 24.2% since 1960.

"Production from Milam County helped meet this record demand," says Kenneth E. Montague, Association president. "We are now calling on it and the rest of Texas to meet an even greater demand as events in the Middle East have again forced us to dip into our declining reserves. Unfortunately, the price for Texas oil is inadequate to stimulate enough exploratory drilling to replace reserves."

Milam County landowners and others with mineral interests received $56,486 in royalty payments last year. Texas received $20,686 from crude oil production taxes and $156 from natural gas production taxes.

Estimated drilling expenditures totaled $595,135 with $419,391 of that amount spent on dry holes yielding nothing for the driller. Ira Rinehart's Yearbook showed drillers completed 8 oil wells and 9 dry holes. Eight wildcats were drilled with 7 of them dry.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 19 persons were directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county with an annual payroll of $54,884.

Poage Cites Breakdown
In U.S. Postal Service

"Our entire transportation and communication system seems to be breaking down," Cong. W. R. Poage stated in his weekly newsletter, citing problems in the postal system.

Poage said much of the trouble stems from the loss of mail trains. "Mail simply is not handled over long distances with the efficiency which the trains provided," he said.

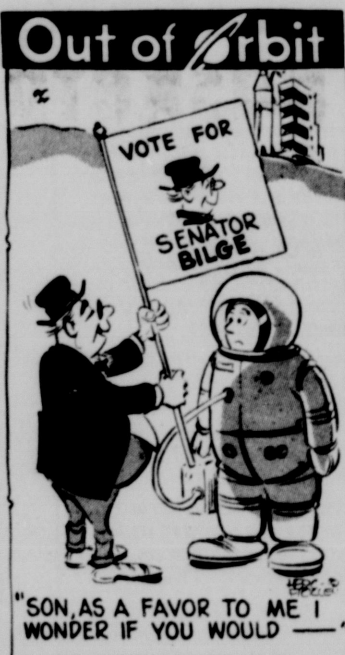

Every time a truck-run comes to a terminal and the mail is transferred, Poage said, it means "undue delay because much of the mail is misplaced or simply detained."

He suggested operating a number of through mail trains from the Southwest to the Northeast and in other areas, or transporting all long distance mail by air. "But this would not solve our local problems," he continued. "The Post Office Department has ordered Postmasters to curtail service and to eliminate all Sunday service, even to boxholders. In most cases the Department provides for no daytime dispatch of mail, and it has even eliminated any record of the hour of mailing from the cancellation mark - I suppose to make it more difficult to see just how bad the service is."

Poage said the government-owned corporation recently voted by Congress will have no opportunity to improve service unless "someone has the power to require employees to do an honest day's work for a day's pay."

"The postal unions share a great deal of the blame for our poor service in that, instead of encouraging their members to give outstanding service, they have almost without exception taken the position that any time any union member was punished for failure to do his duty, they would defend him regardless of his lack of loyalty to the service."

Poage added that the telephone company now does a better job than the postal service does, and people are using the telephone instead of the mails, "and the telephone rates are coming down while postal rates are going up."

'Salute To Len' Will Honor Santa Fe PR Man

Leonard J. (Lenny) Cassell, who has been hailed as "the dean of Texas railroad public relations men," retires December 1 as Santa Fe Railway's regional manager of public relations at Dallas after more than 34 years as a charter member of the PR department.

Cassell's entire journalistic and public relations career spans more than 50 years. He has served the press in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, California and Louisiana.

He will be honored by newsmen and fellow employees at a "Salute to Len" luncheon in the Embassy Ballroom of the Statler Hilton Hotel Friday, Nov. 20.

Born the son of a famous San Francisco newspaperman, November 27, 1900, Cassell was raised across the Bay in Oakland, Calif. His newspaper career began in 1919 when he was a reporter for such papers as the San Francisco News, the Bulletin, Journal of Commerce, Chronicle and Examiner. He also served as city editor of the San Francisco News and as editor of the weekly Crockett Signal.

In his early public relations career, Cassell worked for political figures, community and religious fund raising drives. He helped found a political party in California, and through legal intricacies, became its sole officer.

Cassell joined Santa Fe to handle a temporary PR assignment for its legal department, but in 1936 the Railway organized its public relations department and he became an original staff member.

HIS HAND

On the ceiling of Sistine Chapel, Michelangelo brings to life some of the most spectacular Old Testament depictions. In one panel portraying the Creation, he shows God reaching out His powerful right hand to Adam, thereby sending out that necessary spark of life which began the history of man. In this familiar scene, the figure of God emanates such power and force that it seems to dominate the rest of the picture. It even diminishes the agony and passion of Adam, the embodiment of longing, searching and lost mankind. Yes, if we were to examine the picture more fully, we would see that not only is God reaching out to Adam, but Adam is also reaching out to touch God. He is virtually straining every fiber in his body to affect this two-way interchange. Michelangelo said it all with the deft strokes of his brush. All too often we are aware that the huge, powerful, healing hand of God, is reaching out to us without realizing that His hand won't reach all the way. Just like Adam, we must reach out in return. God's open hand is waiting --- where is yours?

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department offered an opportunity for a public hearing to be requested by publication on October 8 and 15, 1970 of a notice reporting the proposed improvement of FM 1915, from the end of the present FM 1915, 2.3 miles southwest of US 190, southwest to 0.3 miles south of Little River Slough. No requests for a public hearing were received; therefore, the Residency Office of the Texas Highway Department, at Hearne, Texas, has submitted all of the engineering data and information received in connection with the development of this project for approval of the proposed route and design by the District Office of the Texas Highway Department at Bryan, Texas.

The proposed character of work is to construct a typical Farm to Market Road with a 20 foot paved surface on a general right of way width of 100 feet, and construct a bridge 26 feet wide and 285 feet in length across the Little River Slough. Relocation assistance will be provided for any displacees.

Maps (Drawings showing geometric design) and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected and copied at the Resident Engineer's Office, Texas Highway Department, Highway 6 North, Hearne, Texas.

American astronauts stepped onto the moon's surface and walked. Russia's Lunokhod rolled down a ramp, unmanned, and rolled on eight wheels across the moon, avoiding craters by remote control from earth. It is the first time the USSR beat us at our own game: putting wheels somewhere first.

Governor Smith told Temple leaders this week he thought the prospects of a medical school in that hospital center were bright.

This is encouraging not only to our neighbor city to the west. It is encouraging to Cameron's two hospitals and the Milam area which, like all non-metro areas, needs doctors.

Possibilities like internships in both of Cameron's modern hospitals are nearer with a med school and med centers so close to our excellent facilities here. Medical personnel of several kinds could be trained here on residency basis whose presence would attract permanent medical professionals.

It is encouraging to learn newsmen may not be compelled to testify before grand juries unless "a compelling public interest" is proven by judicial review.

A panel of federal judges this week in San Francisco so found in a case where a reporter for the New York Times refused to appear before a grand jury in connection with information he had received in confidence covering a story on the Black Panthers.

The reporter had been held in contempt of court because of his refusal to disclose sources in stories on the Black Panthers.

First Amendment to the Constitution guarantees freedom of press, speech, etc. If a newsmen is compelled to violate confidences before a grand jury without "compelling public need, press freedom is jeopardized.

Court ruled the reporter must appear, but "would not be required to disclose confidential associations unless the government could prove that 'compelling public interest' required disclosure.

Friend Len Cassell, retiring as head of regional public relations manager for Santa Fe Railroad, has a unique background in newspapering.

He is being cited by co-workers and members of the press Friday in Dallas. This columnist could not attend.

Len started in journalism back when dailies were numerous in San Francisco. He was city editor of one publication there and had long experience in newspaper editing before going into public relations. One report said he even started a political party onetime in volatile California politics, then stepped away from power inherent in its future.

He is another of the oldline newspapermen who retires after moving into public relations. Many of journalism's most experienced and brightest have gone that route because opportunities exceeded those of the field that was really their first love.

Growers Ready Exhibits For County Show

Milam pecan growers will participate in the county pecan show to be held Saturday at 102 West 1st St. in Cameron. Entries must be turned in by November 19 (today) County Agent J. D. Moore said, to allow for processing. Entries will consist of one quart of pecans in a plastic bag, containing the grower's name, address and the variety if known.

The entries may be left with M.S. Pugh, 613 West Cameron St. in Rockdale; the county agent's office in the Post Office building in Cameron; or with E. J. Provasek at Duncan's Implement on Highway 77, Cameron.

Contestants may pick up their entries by 3 p.m. Saturday.

The county had no pecan show last year because of the poor crop, but in the 1968 show 53 entries were counted. Winner of that year's show was Mrs. Charlie Meyer of Rt. 1, Buckholts.

Reception To Honor Maxwell

Retiring County Schools Supt. H. D. Maxwell will be honored at a reception Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Cameron Country Club.

Hosts for the affair are members of the superintendent's staff, Lillian Lester, Marie Jackson, Ida Belle Lewis, and Mary Parmelee, and new Supt.-elect Max McClaren.

Maxwell, who has served as county school superintendent for the past eight years, will retire January 1, 1971.

CISD RETIRES BONDS - School Board President Hilliard Thomas, right, and Fredwill Hornung, Board secretary, are shown signing a check for $58,788.12 from the interest and sinking fund account for the early retirement of $90,000 in Cameron ISD Building Bonds.

Officials Note Savings...

CISD Buys Own Bonds

Cameron ISD Board of Trustees and Supt. D. R. Dodson have announced the purchase of $90,000 in the school district's own bonds for $58,788.12.

Funds for the early retirement of the bonds due in 1982, 1983 and 1984, came from the CISD interest and sinking fund account.

Interest and sinking fund money can only be used to retire school bonds, Thomas and Dodson emphasized. The money comes from school taxes and incentive aid paid by the State of Texas.

Incentive aid is received for consolidation of school districts, such as with Marak and Branchville Districts, the officials explained.

"Investment of sinking fund money is restricted to purchase of bonds and savings deposits," Supt. Dodson said, "and with this investment in their own bonds the Cameron Board of Trustees were able to save $31,851.63 on the principal and $37,320 in interest on the bonds."

If the $58,788.12 were invested in U. S. Government Bonds or Time Deposits at 5, 6 or 6 1/2%, the net saving to the District would vary from a low of $22,000 to a high of $32,000, the superintendent said.

Street Paving Program Tops Council Agenda

The City Council heard the first reading of an ordinance providing for an assessment program to pave a number of streets at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Actual paving will not start until next year, following final approval of the ordinance after a public hearing.

In other business, the Council approved a recommendation that limbs and brush be hauled to the old dump ground site, saving time and garbage pit space at the new grounds.

Councilmen also authorized Streets Supt. Hale to purchase a welding machine for repairs on city equipment, and approved rental of a car for the police chief to use until his new car is delivered.

Police Chief Martinez was authorized to purchase a marijuanas and barbituate testing kit at a cost of $18 for police department use.

Houston Operator Schedules Test In Milbur Field

The Milbur Field in south Milam County gained a new wildcat last week when a Houston operator scheduled a 3,600 foot test, ending a lull in drilling activity of several months in the field.

Howard W. Cox Jr., of Houston will drill the new wildcat, his No. 1 James Earl Kleypas. Location is on a 100 acre lease in John Dunlap Survey and northeast of production in the Milbur Field.

Cox will be the newest operator in the field, which was opened late in 1967 by the J. W. Huber Corporation's No. 2 H. H. Coffield discovery well, an 84 barrel per day producer.

Permit depth of the Kleypas is 3,600 feet, which would indicate the wildcat has the Navarro as its objective, although most of the production in the Milbur Field area is from the basal Wilcox, which lies above the Navarro formation.

By investing in its own bonds the Cameron ISD has in effect made possible the retirement of $90,000 of bonds for $58,788.12 which will reduce the total bonded indebtedness of the Cameron Independent School District to $267,000, the officials said.

Of this amount $87,671 is covered by incentive aid funds to be paid in the future by the State. This reduces the net bonded indebtedness of the district to $179,329 to be paid from local taxes.

The final payment of $29,000 on the school's bonded indebtedness will be due November 15, 1981, as a result of this purchase, Supt. Dodson said.

Milam Chosen For Pilot Loan Program

Milam County has been designated as an Economic Opportunity Loan pilot county. It will be one of 5 counties in Texas in the pilot program to aid low income rural people through loans for development or improvement of rural farm or non-farm enterprises.

Henry Gates of Nacogdoches has been appointed Economic Opportunity loan specialist for the pilot program in Milam County. He will join the staff of the Milam County office of Farmers Home Administration. He was formerly employed by Consumer Marketing Service at Nacogdoches.

Henry Ivey, FHA county supervisor, said the presently administered economic opportunity loan program is a pilot program in Texas. "If the program is successful," Ivey said, "it will be considered for a place among the regular programs administered by Farmers Home Administration."

Counties in Texas designated for this trial period are Red River, Freestone, Milam, Guadalupe and Starr.

Objective of the program is to make loans to low income farm families to improve or develop farm or nonfarm enterprises. It is designed to help generate a better income for rural families through development or improvement of enterprises that will improve the family financial situation.

The loan limit is $3,500 at 4-1/8 percent interest for a maximum period of

DEDICATION SET FOR HOSPITAL

Dedication ceremonies for the new St. Edward Hospital are set for Sunday, December 6 at 2 p.m.

Construction on the $1 million structure to replace the pre-World War I hospital started just a little more than a year ago, after a successful drive for funds to match a $500,000 Hill-Burton grant.

Final stages of the interior work are now in progress, along with furnishings and installation of equipment.

Guest speaker for the dedication and details of the ceremonies will be released at a later date. The Herald is planning special features on the new hospital for its December 3 issue.

Grand Jury Returns Thirteen Indictments

Yoe Cagers Meet Marlin For Opener

With all-district seniors Robert Brashear and Jerry Richardson and 6-footers Ron Gilbert and Richard Johnson, the cage Yoemen open their season Saturday night at Marlin.

Coach Ron Murdock's 12-man squad includes eight lettermen back from the 1969-70 squad which went to regional for the first time in perhaps 15 years last winter.

Murdock in an early-week interview said the Yoemen split games with the Marlin Bulldogs last year. He said they had a balanced ballclub with no offense standouts.

Game time for the varsity tilt is 7:30 p.m. at Marlin High School Gym.

The Yoemen travel to Robinson 8 p.m. Tuesday night for another road trip before starting the home season against Gatesville at Yoe Gym, complete with new glass backboards.

Murdock said it was possible Cameron would play another homegame with Rockdale next week, not now scheduled, but Rockdale lost an early season opponent and may agree to play here.

First basketball tournament is December 4 and 5 at Gatesville for the varsity.

A complete clip-and-save schedule for the year is on an inside page of this edition, with photos of the squad.

Murdock started practice with six guards, three forwards, one center-forward and two center candidates.

Brashear is the shotmaker from last year's squad with a 16.8 average, followed closely by center-forward Richardson with a 12-point average. Brashear was all district two years and all-tourney at Round Rock.

Richardson was second team all-district last year. Both he and Brashear are 5-10 and two-year lettermen, only ones on the squad.

One-year lettermen include guards Ken McLerran, Dean Prokisch and Mike Zajicek, junior guard Jimmy Bailey, forwards Sam Knight and Mike Zelisko.

Up from the B-team or freshman club are 6-footer center Richard Johnson, 6-2 Ron Gilbert, 5-8 guard Jack Kirk and 5-11 forward Harry Perrin.

Point averages for McLerran and Prokisch are 5 per game each, Bailey a 4.5 average and Zajicek and Knight at 3.5.

Murdock emphasized his lack of "big men" in height during a picture session when he asked the photographer to wait for Gilbert, at 6-2 the tallest on a club averaging about 5-10.

But Murdock has team experience and a couple of medium-grade cannon in Brashear and Richardson who may hit even bigger this season.

Murdock recalls substantially the same club last year decided the first half of the season wasn't so good and went on to win all but two of their last half-season's games, the second loss during the regional at Brenham's Blinn College.

The cage Yoemen have a 21-game regular season and are scheduled in three tournaments: Dec. 4-5 in Gatesville, Dec. 10-11 in Rockdale and Dec. 28-29 in Taylor, all for varsity only.

District contests begin January 12 against Georgetown and continue through January and February with Caldwell, Westlake, Round Rock and Elgin.

Practice sessions are underway every afternoon from 2:30 to 5:50 p.m. at Yoe Gym for the Yoe varsity, junior varsity and freshmen.

Murdock said he was cutting junior varsity candidates to a 12-man squad from 19 this week.

County 'Poor Farm' Ends Chapter

The final chapter closed on the Milam County Poor Farm last week when county commissioners approved leasing of the 63 1/2 acres to Timmy Tucker for one year.

The Poor Farm, located on Austin Street in West Cameron, has been a refuge for the homeless since 1883 when the county bought the property from Joe T. Arnold. The county paid Arnold $1,100 for the land 87 years ago. They will lease it to Tucker for $556 a year.

The farm has dropped from a population of 23 in 1949 to its present 3 elderly occupants. They will move to the Cameron Housing Unit when it is completed and the J. A. Cryers, who have managed the farm for 21 years will move to their home on N. Central.

When the poor farm opened it was the only form of welfare available for needy individuals. Residents helped raise their own food in the fields, and often, if they died at the home, were buried in the pasture. Need for the home was almost eliminated in recent years with welfare reforms, old age pension, social security and public housing.

When the Cryers moved there in December 1949 the name was changed from the Poor Farm to Milam County Home. At that time there were 4 houses on the property. The Cryers kept a vegetable garden and occupants of the home helped care for it. Mrs. Cryer prepared three meals a day for the home's occupants, shopped for their daily needs and medicine. "We think our work out here has been worthwhile," Mrs. Cryer said, "but we are looking forward to moving to our own home."

She said the home had been a refuge for older men in recent years, but recalled that they had raised one child at the home. "The mother and her baby about 5 months old, were brought out here on a cold, rainy day. They had been sleeping in doorways and were nearly starved and frozen," Mrs. Cryer said. "The child stayed at the farm until he was 12 years old."

"All in all it has been a good 21 years. We have had some good people and some that weren't so good," Mrs. Cryer said. "But I think we have helped some." "We have made some changes, plumbing in the house and hot water, and we've seen to it that people who died here were buried in a regular cemetery, not out in the pasture."

"The commissioners have been wonderful to work with through the years," Mrs. Cryer said. "They have been considerate and helpful."

Judge O. B. Len said the main house will be repaired after the Cryers move.

RETIRING - The J. A. Cryers, who have managed the County Home on North Austin for 21 years, will retire next month when the home closes. The property, a refuge for the needy since 1883, has been leased by Tim Tucker and the three occupants will move to the Cameron Housing Units.

'71 Housing To Increase....

Reports indicate a housing boom in some parts of the United States is due in 1971. With what is underway around Milam County in rural home construction, possibilities in Cameron and other area communities, it could well be the year when housing needs are getting proper attention.

Whether largest city or smallest rural community, housing represents a major problem which may be alleviated by a reduced prime rate of one-quarter percent, the first reduction since 1967, setting an example for new business development and therefore housing for people and industry.

New York, the largest American city, this year was short more than 100,000 housing unit starts, either apartment or single-family dwelling. Scaled down, communities the size of Cameron would be proportionately as short of housing.

Predictions like this used to mean only greater housing in the metropolitan areas. But with ideas like building entirely new cities and incentives for relocation of industry to smaller established cities, a projection for more new housing should mean the non-metro areas as well.

With Cameron Housing Authority's 50 units about 95 percent complete and a waiting list even before the additional units are open, it is encouraging to see projections for new housing in 1971.

WHAT OTHERS SAY...

Ancient Voyagers

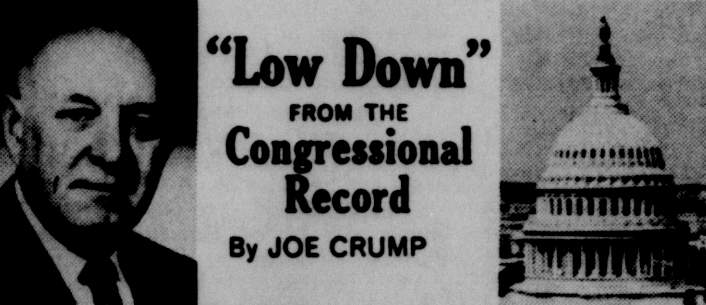

The dispute between Italians and Scandinavians over who really discovered America, Christopher Columbus or Leif Ericson, may be irrelevant. All sorts of theories concerning possible earlier discoveries by men from Europe, Africa and Asia have been advanced in recent years, some with credible supporting evidence.

Professor Cyrus H. Gordon of Brandeis University has produced the latest claim to pre-Columbian and pre-Ericsonian exploration of the New World by Old World men. The inscription on a stone found in a burial site in eastern Tennessee 85 years ago, he says, has been found, when examined right side up, to contain letters similar to those used by Jews of the Roman period. This may indicate, he believes, that Jews fleeing the Romans crossed the Atlantic.

This is not as far-fetched as it may seem at first glance. The Phoenicians, who lived along the coast of modern Israel and Syria, had developed navigation to a high point as early as 600 B.C. when their biremes and triremes, ships with two and three rows of oars, sailed into the Atlantic as far away as England. Such ships could have crossed the ocean to America.

Thor Heyerdahl, the Norwegian explorer who believes people drifted across the seas from Africa to America and from America to the South Pacific, has proved his point by accomplishing similar voyages with his reed boat Ra II and his raft Kon Tiki. But even such trips were not the first to America. Scientists generally agree that the first inhabitants of America came from Asia by way of a land or ice bridge across the Bering Strait.

U.S. FARMERS CALLED SUPERSALESMEN

SENATOR HENRY L. BELLMON (Okla.) "...The country of Japan was honored at a luncheon given by the NATIONAL GRAIN AND FEED ASSOCIATION because of the unique position Japan has achieved in becoming the FIRST BILLION-DOLLAR MARKET FOR U.S. AGRICULTURE PRODUCTS. ...I asked unanimous consent that the remarks of Ambassador Ushiba... be printed in the Record. (Excerpts follow.)

I am happy that my first public speech after arriving in Washington is at an event to commemorate such a significant milestone, the fact that Japan has become the first billion-dollar customer for the United States agriculture.

While in one sense Japan is the honoree today, the real honorees are the American creasing demand for United States feed grains, have contributed to the increased sales of American agriculture products in Japan.

In the first seven months of 1970, according to the United States Department of Commerce figures, United States exports TO JAPAN are up 46 percent and imports FROM JAPAN are UP 18 percent compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year. THE 46 PERCENT INCREASE IN SALES TO JAPAN IS MORE THAN TWICE THE 20 PERCENT AVERAGE INCREASE IN AMERICAN EXPORTS TO ALL COUNTRIES.

I want to note that your "supersalesmen" have not been content with reaching the goal of selling $1 billion worth of agriculture products to Japan. They exceeded it by over $100 million. It seems to me that they are well on their way to selling Japan $2 billion worth of American farm products.

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

The farmer has a big stake in the game of possible import restrictions on Japanese textiles. During the 1960's soybean shipments to Japan increased 115 percent; wheat 120 percent and feed grains more than 400 percent. American agriculture has earned the tag, "supersalesmen." J.C.

Dateline Austin Freshman Legislators Are Told Some Sobering News

AUSTIN

Freshman state legislators received some sobering news in their first orientation conference before the legislative halls open on January 12.

About 30 legislative newcomers turned out for the two-day schooling in the capital city. Major state officials and agency heads functioned in the role of professors.

In addition to warnings that money and legislative redistricting problems lie ahead, young lawmakers got word that welfare cuts are virtually certain early next year.

Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney reported this grim news on the plight of his agency. He announced that "unless an emergency appropriation is made early in the upcoming legislative session, we still face the prospect of cuts in Aid to Families with Dependent Children and/or medical assistance in the first few months of 1971."

Commissioner Hackney added that "even with an appropriation that would take us up to the annual ceiling on state money for public assistance, we can predict the need for a cut in AFDC grants by June if the rolls continue to grow as they have."

Texas' constitution sets a ceiling of $80 million for financial assistance to welfare beneficiaries. Hackney said he has asked $96 million for fiscal 1972 just to cover the present level of public assistance checks.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher urged the freshmen to utilize the formula of "knowledge, cooperation and understanding" in the work ahead.

Further schooling for lawmakers is ahead at a University of Texas special orientation program.

COURTS SPEAK

State Supreme Court has agreed with the federal court's finding that three key sections of Texas' obscenity law are constitutional. But it skipped ruling on two other sections and ordered the Wichita Falls court to move ahead with its case against a theater showing "stag" movies.

In other rulings last week, the high court held that:

- In spite of mandatory retirement provisions of the constitution, retired judges over 75 may be assigned to hear special litigation and be paid as "visiting judges."
- Appeal of an Abilene attorney whose license was suspended after conviction for conspiracy to defraud should be turned down.
- Judgment of $600,000 favoring a Dallas bank in a loan dispute with a Denton County man is valid.
- It should hear on January 13 the Getty Oil Company appeal from a lower court finding that the firm must lower its pumping units which are interfering with the irrigation system of a Gaines County farmer.
- A Garland widow should get a hearing on December 16 on her suit to collect $20,000 in life insurance on her deceased husband.
- Court of Criminal Appeals refused to lower the 99-year prison sentence given a San Angelo man in a car-bomb killing.
- A Dallas woman should not be jailed for contempt for not complying with a court order to deliver obscene film over which she had no control.

not held one in a year is not required to make a deposit with the county clerk... and any such deposit collected should be refunded.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- Banking corporation stock, in a firm not doing business in the state on January 1, 1970 is not taxable for ad valorem tax purposes for 1970.
- Texas is not disqualified for an airport building grant from Texas Aeronautics Commission because it owns an airport facility jointly with Texarkana, Arkansas.
- Current Texas Tourist Development Board Chairman remains in office until the expiration of his term as a board member. Board will then elect a new chairman.
- Harrison County Commissioners Court can pay for the defense of its sheriff and two deputies in a civil rights action filed in South Dakota.
- A corporation doing business as a detective agency must file a surety bond or insurance policy with the Secretary of State.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

To get my mind off some bills needing to be paid last night I turned to a newspaper I'd been saving and found an article that made me feel better immediately.

According to it, 93 nations are in debt to the United States, have been for years, and very few are even keeping up with the interest. In fact, the last time the government figured up the interest was in 1965, when somebody did it apparently just to be doing, you know, busy work, and it amounted to $20,691,309,517.10. Nobody is quite sure what the total of interest and principal is and nobody really wants to know, since most of it will never be paid.

Anyway, it runs into the billions of dollars and the reason it's not being re-paid is that all 93 nations are head over heels in debt to themselves, aren't taking in enough tax money to meet their own budgets.

In fact, there's not a country on earth that's not going further and further in debt, including the United States, and I got to wondering.

What happens when the whole world goes broke? Who forecloses and what does he do with it when he gets it? Auction it off?

I can see the ads now: "To be sold at public auction: 210 re-possessed nations, a few demonstrator models, all on an as-is, where-is basis. All terms cash. Seller makes no warranties as to the condition or working order of any of these items."

You can see this would be a holy mess and something ought to be done to head it off. We can't allow the whole world to lose its credit rating.

I'm going to give it some serious thought, just as soon as I get out from under my own debts and get some free time to think. Don't wait on me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"No Pets Allowed"

When the Scotts rented a new apartment, they took it for granted that their dog Rover would be as welcome as they were. But soon after they moved in, the landlord called their attention to the "No Pets Allowed" clause in their lease.

Unwilling to give up either the dog or the apartment, the Scotts determined to fight. In a court hearing, they offered this argument to the judge:

"Rover happens to be a quiet, well-behaved animal who never bothers a soul and never does any damage. Of course, if he should

On the other hand, a landlord may lose his enforcement rights by "going easy" on a tenant for a substantial period. In one case, a landlord tried to evict a tenant after permitting him to keep a parrot for almost four years.

In these circumstances, the landlord was held to have waived the rights he had under the lease. The court said that, even though the lease plainly said "No Pets Allowed," the landlord's inaction spoke louder than words.

County Agent's Notes ...

Agent Gives Tips For November

By J. D. Moore

Don't forget to bring your pecan entries in for the county Pecan and Food Show to be held at 102 East 1st Street in Cameron on November 21.

The entries should be in by November 19 to be processed for the show. Exhibitors may have their pecans for home use. Entries must be picked up by 3 p.m. the day of the show.

WARNING SYSTEM ADVISED

W. S. Allen, engineer at A&M reminds swine, poultry, turkey, and greenhouse tomato producers who are operating under present day confinement method that a warning system to alert them to power failures is a good investment.

Such a system, he adds, could easily mean the difference between success and failure of the farm enterprise. An emergency system has been developed and is operated from a 6-volt fence controller battery, he says.

CHEAP SOIL NO BARGAIN

During the next few weeks many home-owners will be bringing in top soil to fill in low spots in the lawn or flower beds or in connection with establishing nice lawns.

Many homeowners have found that bringing in top soil adds to their gardening problems because it contained unwanted weeds, insects and plant diseases.

Plan Landscaping With New Home

Building a new home soon? If so, be sure to allow for the cost of landscape development, advises Everett E. Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

This includes such items as grading, drive, patio, retaining walls, screen fences and walls, plantings, and professional services.

Under average conditions, the landscape budget should be between 10 to 20 percent of the cost of the house and lot. This does not include the cost of such features as a swimming pool or tennis court.

"When a new home has concrete blocks for walks, a loose gravel drive, and a Burfordholly on each corner, it doesn't mean that it has been landscaped," said Janne. "In fact, it appears as though the owner ran out of funds before he finished because he didn't plan ahead."

The ideal procedure is to plan the house and ground as a unit before construction begins. In this way, the house can be designed to fit the site with a minimum of grading or cutting and filling of soil.

This results in a better use of the site and makes it easier to provide a close relationship between the indoor and outdoor areas.

Other factors to consider in developing the site are the views, topography, seasonal wind directions, sun angles, space usage, both inside and outside the house, and local building restrictions.

The less the site must be changed, the better use one can make of existing features and still achieve unity in the total landscape design.

All too often the house design is chosen with no thought as to the lot on which it is to be located. Consequently, many valuable and irreplaceable trees and other landscape features must be removed to make room for the house.

With coordinated planning of the house and lot, destruction of existing beauty can usually be eliminated.

BURLINGTON 4-H MEETS

The Burlington 4-H Club met in its regular monthly meeting November 10, in the Fellowship Hall of St. Michael's Catholic Church. The meeting was attended by 15 4-H'ers, the CHDA, and Ass't CAA.

The club voted to have a Christmas party on December 8 at the Fellowship Hall. The members drew names for gifts.

Leading the Burlington Club this year are these officers: president, Belinda Helt; vice president, Donna Jo Crenan; secretary, Jeanette Warschak; treasurer, Kathy Tomek; reporter, Jim Crenan, and Council delegate, Carolyn Helt.

Recreation leaders are Rose Warschak, Ruth Tomek, Terry Dornier and Earl Kleypas.

POULTRY TEAM PRACTICE

The National Poultry Judging Contest is fast approaching and plans are being made to get in some last minute practice.

Team members Clyde Jistel, Joseph Jistel, Joseph Vaculin, and Daniel Richardson will be working with Extension Specialists Bill Cawley and Marshall Miller, several days within the next two weeks to sharpen their wits for the next big test.

The team will leave for Chicago November 25 to represent Texas at the National Contest. Let's all give our support and help to these fine young men.

By way of ending, let me add that plans are being made to begin a new team of judges for next year. Anyone interested in trying out for a junior or a senior team should feel free to contact me at any time.

COLLEGE STATION
The period from Nov. 20-26 is National Farm-City Week and every citizen has a stake in its observance. Nowhere else in the world, points out Chas. K. Baker, Extension economist, do so many depend on so few for their food and fiber needs.

SCS

Why should people living in the city be concerned with soil erosion? Erosion is usually thought of as a problem of the farmer, but erosion affects all people.

In order to understand how erosion affects people, we need to know what it is. Soil erosion is the movement of soil, by wind or water, from one area to another. This in itself does not sound too serious.

But the problem arises when this movement becomes excessive and the soil is deposited in an area where it is unwanted. For example, when flood waters pick up valuable top soil from a corn field and deposit it in the living room of your home.

The soil which is moved or washed out of a field is usually the top soil. Because this is the most productive part of the soil, these fields are robbed of their production potentials. This will result in lower crop yields and eventually the increase in food costs.

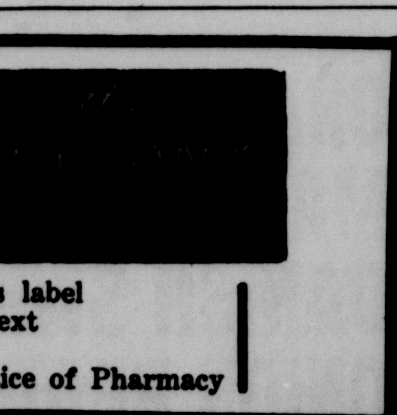

When soil is removed from the field by water, it becomes a pollutant of streams and lakes. Water pollution is a widely discussed subject today but few people realize that soil particles are one of the major pollutants.

Polluted water is unfit for drinking and swimming and is also unattractive. Fish living in muddy waters are usually not as active as fish in clean water. If soil or sediment becomes too heavy, some of the fish may be killed.

As the muddy water travels down a stream it may flow into a lake or pond. As this happens, the water will stand still and the sediment will fall out of the water filling the lake with mud. As can be seen, if this continually reoccurs over a period of time, the life of the lake will drastically be reduced.

Water pollution, flood damage, and reduced crop yields are problems which affect both rural and urban people. The Soil Conservation Service working in cooperation with the Soil & Water Conservation District, is dedicated to overcoming these problems. For more information on what is being done about these problems and how you might help, contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.

TOWN and COUNTRY

Everyone Has A Stake In Observing Farm-City Week

ASCS NEWS

By Alva E. Sanders

The 5 percent of our population engaged in agricultural production gives the other 95 percent benefits unsurpassed anywhere, says Baker.

In 1969 we spent only 16.5 percent of our incomes for food as compared with 24 percent some 20 years ago and this despite the fact the producer is getting about 9 cents less out of every food dollar than he received 20 years ago.

Too, notes Baker, production expenses have continued to rise; thus, keeping the cost-price squeeze a major problem for agricultural producers.

Our producers, says Baker, are continually searching for better and more efficient ways to keep the food and fiber supply lines filled.

Today the U.S. farmer produces enough food and fiber for 45 people, about 39 at home and 6 abroad. A decade ago he supplied the agricultural needs of only 24 people.

Other problems of common interest to farm and city residents are also cited by President Nixon in his Farm-City Week proclamation.

He said, "With two-thirds of our population crowded onto only two percent of the land, many of our people are denied economic opportunities, adequate living space, health, cultural fulfillment, and those spiritual values without which no nation can achieve greatness."

"The time for action is at hand -- for careful plans to be formulated, and for decisions to be made at local governmental levels, to foster the improved distribution of population and accompanying economic activity needed during the decade of the 1970's and beyond. The Government can provide assistance, but the effort will succeed only as Americans take part in developing a policy of sound national growth."

"In this effort, city dwellers and rural people alike have reason to work together toward common goals. The well-being of urban America and the welfare of rural America will increasingly intertwine as our total population expands. Better living in the one depends on better living in the other."

"I request that leaders of agricultural organizations, business groups, labor unions, youth and women's clubs, civic and fraternal associations, schools and others join in noting not only the interdependent roles of the producers and consumers of America's agricultural abundance but also their opportunities for cooperation in building for the future."

Baker notes that Farm-City Week observances in Texas will follow no set pattern but the objective of all will be the same -- to help rural and urban residents understand each others problems and further develop the appreciation each should have for the other.

In other words, he says, we just couldn't get along without each other.

Farmers who are installing practices under the 1970 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) are reminded that the work must be substantially completed on or before December 31 in order to be eligible for payment under the program.

If a farmer does not finish his ACP work by the end of the year, the County ASCS Office cannot make the cost-share payment.

Winter weather has arrived, and in past years it has sometimes prevented farmers from completing their conservation cost-sharing practices. It is hoped that it will not happen this year. That is why farmers are being urged to concentrate on completing their practices as soon as possible.

When approving a conservation cost-sharing practice the County ASCS Committee sets a completion date -- and most farmers finish and report their work in good time.

If circumstances prevent completion by the date set, a time extension can be granted. However, an extended completion time cannot be granted beyond December 31st. So this is the main point farmers should keep in mind -- ACP work must be substantially completed this calendar year.

WORTH NOTING

Cash receipts from farm marketing in 1969 totaled around $47 billion, of which $28 billion came from livestock and livestock products and $19 billion from crops. The total in 1950 was only $28 billion. The increase since 1950 stems almost entirely from a substantially larger volume of farm products marketed, since prices received by farmers in 1969 averaged just slightly higher than 20 years ago. The bill for farm production expenses added up to $38.6 billion in 1969, about double that of 1950. In 1969, production expenses got 71 cents of each gross income dollar.

The Easy, Practical Way To Extra Range-Feeding Dividends!

T-E Liquid Feed Supplement

... saves time and work ... reduces labor costs drastically. One trip to fill the T-E feeder takes care of 75 to 100 head up to 10 days. No need to run to the pasture every day with cake or cubes. T-E Liquid Feed eliminates loss from waste or spillage ... cows can't tromp it into the ground.

T-E Liquid Feed provides the supplement cattle and sheep need and helps them utilize the available forage. It contains urea, molasses, high grade phosphoric acid, vitamins, trace minerals and other additives. Only the formula from which T-E Liquid Feed is made inhibits urea to slow down and pace its conversion into protein so that animals get maximum benefit from it.

You can depend on T-E Liquid Feed to give your herd an extra measure of good health at substantial savings. You'll see clearer eyes, better hair coat, more bloom that buyers like. You'll see more consistent estrus, better conception, easier calving, fewer abortions and stillborns and larger calves dropped and weaned.

Gause

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

Mr. Bob Browder certainly had good luck fishing last week. He brought home a 34 pound one, gave away one that weighed 24 pounds and threw some 5 pound ones back in the water. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coats and children spent last Tuesday in Austin where they did some Christmas shopping. Getting close to that time, isn't it? I suppose the deer hunting season got off to a bag Saturday morning. Haven't heard who all around here had luck on the first weekend. Kay Albright did call Saturday and say Wayne got one.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cass, Dwayne and Lisa visited in Milano Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gene Miller. The Wayne Lees, Craig, Kelly and Lance spent Sunday in San Antonio with Mrs. Ila Mae Lee. Also visited with Mrs. Sandra Dworaczky and Tom Lee and with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lee.

Cathy and Cheryl who were visiting from Houston.

Mr. Bill Hairrell came home Friday from the Veteran's Hospital in Marlin.

Mike and Cathy Rains have purchased the Mabe home and got moved into it over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glenn Alexander and Joel of Houston came up last Wednesday and took Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Alexander and Margie Nan to Texarkana to visit with Mrs. Alexander's mother, Mrs. J. E. Cannaday who is in the hospital seriously ill after having a stroke.

Mr. Lyd Cunningham returned home Monday morning from the hospital in Temple where he recently had surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore recently went on a fishing trip to the coast.

At the time of this writing Mr. Lonzo Edwards is still a patient in Hearne General Hospital.

San Gabriel

Speedway

Calls Off
Dec. 6 Race

COLLEGE STATION

The Board of Directors of Texas International Speedway announced in Dallas that the "Fall Staff Grand National 400" NASCAR Grand National Stock Car Race scheduled for December 6, 1970, has been cancelled.

Additional time is needed to work out the necessary refinancing of the corporation which precludes the promotional effort to put on the racing show Texas race fans are entitled to see.

The Board indicated that they have worked out a tentative refinancing program which will require several weeks to finalize.

Ticket refund details have not been worked out as yet. However, as soon as information is available, ticket holders will be advised.

Home ownership and improvement are first-rate investments. A San Francisco study indicates that home prices there have risen an average of 7.5 per cent, compounded annually, over the past ten years.

Owner occupants spent $6.1 billion for additions, alterations and major replacements to their homes in 1969, estimates the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Badgers End Season In 34-14 Win Over Jarrell

The Buckholts Badgers crushed the Jarrell Cougars here at Cougar Field by a score of 34-14 in a district six-man football game.

The Badgers opened the scoring as Steve Mendoza ran 5 yards for the touchdown. Mendoza then passed to Richard Kudlacek for the extra point.

Jarrell marched back and scored when Billy Wiley caught a 22 yard pass from Darrell Bam-sch. Bamach kicked the extra points.

Jarrell led 8-7 but not for long as the Badgers scored again when Gordon Haisler passed to Kudlacek for a 60 yard run and pass combination. The PAT failed. The score at half was Buckholts ahead of Jarrell 13-8.

The second half began as Buckholts scored on a 29 yard run by Mendoza. Haisler passed to Kudlacek for the PAT. Jarrell came back to score their last touchdown as Ken Salyer ran from one yard out. The PAT failed. The third quarter ended with the Badgers on top 20-14.

The fourth quarter was all Buckholts as the Badgers played hard defense not letting Jarrell score. The Badgers also played good offense as they scored 14 points.

The first touchdown for the Badgers was on a 12 yard pass to Larry Orsag from Haisler. The PAT failed.

Haisler tackled Jarrell's ball carrier in the end zone for a safety and two points for Buckholts. The Badgers last touchdown came when Haisler threw a pass to Kudlacek for 50 yards. The PAT failed. The game ended with the Badgers winning 34-14.

The Badgers ended the season with a 2-7 record and district with a 2-2 record.

PATTERNS... RIGHT ON

Zig Zag knows where it's going, and it's heading up the 70's with a design that recalls the Thirties but is just right for the space age! Bates has taken stripes and given them a fresh viewpoint that says a lot about environment. Tones of pinks and purples are very much "now" for teens, while the brown combination will make any man a king. Best of all, Zig Zag is machine wash-and-dry, no ironing required, making every housewife a queen.

NEW YORK (ED)—What's hot in home fashions? Prints are hot, in smashing color combinations. Patterns have pizzazz and the chicest homes are sporting them on walls, floors, beds and tables. Some of the patterns are big and bold, others are small and abstract, but all of them give a fresh, sizzling look to homes.

Prints are such an easy way to decorate a room. Just pick a print—any print—and then use the colors in it to do the whole room. The darker color will usually serve as the color for your carpet while some of the medium values are excellent for wall and drapery colors, plus upholstery. Save the light, bright values for accents such as lamps and other accessories like throw pillows. Just make sure you pick a print!

'Baubles, Bangles' For Pleasure Profit Club

"Baubles, Bangles and Beads" was the theme for the Pleasure and Profit Club when they met at the home of Mrs. Joe Heitman on November 12.

Mrs. Heitman had objects displayed throughout the house illustrating her talk on Christmas decorating. In the foyer was a 3 ft. golden angel that she had made.

The Three Wise Men in both modern and contemporary design were placed in the living room along with the Christmas bird cage, traditional wreath with candle and card container.

In the dining room were displayed the holiday aprons, Christmas trees, placemats, wastebaskets, tissue holders, candle holders, hot pads - all of Mrs. Heitman's creation.

Three new members were welcomed into the club: Mrs. Joe Walzel, Mrs. Billy Quiram and Mrs. Paul Young.

Mrs. Walter Lester, vice-president, president in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. A. Bowling. Minutes of the previous two meetings were read and approved. Eighteen members were present.

Refreshments of pecan pie, stuffed dates and spiced tea were served. "Baubles, Bangles and Beads" treasurers were examined during the social hour.

Next meeting for the Pleasure and Profit Club will be November 19 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Looney. Mrs. H. M. Yager will serve as co-hostess.

CCTA Has Nov. Meeting

The Cameron Classroom Teachers Association met in the Cameron Junior High Library on Monday, November 9.

Plans were discussed for the December meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Ola Devine gave a report of the House of Delegates of District VI, Texas State Teachers Association.

HALF-TIME BUFFET TO PLEASE THE FOOTBALL FANS

BUILD A BUFFET around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're "football's own" seems to add a special savor to game-watching afternoons. A culinary game plan includes cheese and cracker snacks, boneless ham, salad, a sweet-treat pie and mugs of steaming hot coffee. All good game-time eating!

NEW YORK (ED)—Football may be a rugged sport, but your entertaining of the fans can be easy fun-and-games. To please the heartiest appetites, build a half-time buffet around NFL Training Table Foods; the fact that they're football's official foods seems to add a special savor to simple good eating.

A buffet that leaves you time to watch the game, too, is built around ham with purple plum sauce. Cook Hormel Cure/81 Ham as package directs. Serve hot or cold; either way, it's extra-special with the savory sauce. Serve with cheese and crackers, a banana-rich salad, hot mugs

Fleur de Lis Workshop On Yule Wreath

Mrs. J. J. Heitman was guest speaker for the Fleur de Lis Garden Club meeting and workshop last week.

The club met at the home of Mrs. Alvin Coleman. Mrs. William Keim and Mrs. Roy Coufal were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Heitman described the variety of holiday wreaths, including fruit, pine cones, berries and traditional green. She also showed club members the steps to successful permanent Christmas wreaths and demonstrated techniques of cutting cones and attaching ornaments to the strofoam forms.

Mrs. Jim Camp club president, presided at the business meeting. Following the business meeting and program the hostesses served dessert and coffee.

BPW Club Has Program

The Cameron Business and Professional Women's Club met Monday evening in the BPW Clubhouse at Milam and 4th Street. Mrs. Sam Houston presided at the brief business meeting.

A program on Christmas gifts, decorations and traditions was presented by Miss Christine Laws. She also showed gifts that she had brought back from her trip to Panama.

Mrs. Logan McWilliams, hostess for the meeting, served a salad plate and hot punch following the program.

Holiday Show Workshop For Civic Garden Club

Mrs. Leo Fuchs was hostess at her home for members of the Civic Garden Club when they met for their regular monthly meeting on last Thursday morning. During the social hour the hostess offered blue berry muffins and kalachas with coffee.

The program for the day was a workshop on flower arranging and Mrs. Milton J. Falkner, a student flower show judge, presented the A, B, C. In Flower Arranging. For the benefit of new members in the club, in preparation for the forth coming Christmas flower show, Mrs. Falkner gave special emphasis to mechanics, containers, materials, conditioning of materials, designs and assembling the arrangements.

Afterwards the group individually constructed various flower arrangements and constructive criticism was offered by the speaker, Mrs. Falkner. The president, Mrs. Milton J. Falkner also presided for a short business session. Mrs. Leo L. Fuchs, schedule chairman for the flower show, "Christmas Wonder" distributed the schedules and commented on the various classes offered. The show will be held on December 9 and Mrs. Sam Houston is serving as general chairman.

Mrs. Nona H. Lindsay was welcomed to the club as a new member.

The club members observed a brief memorial service in memory of a charter member, Mrs. R. G. Graben, and voted to make a contribution to place her name in the Memorial Book, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., headquarters, Fort Worth, Texas.

Henderson To Head
County Ex-Students
CLASP Program

County Attorney John B. Henderson Jr. has been named chairman of the Milam County Texas Ex-Students' CLASP program.

CLASP is the College Loyalty Alumni Support Program which provides funds for the University which cannot be obtained through state funds.

As chairman of this important committee, Henderson will head a campaign to solicit funds to insure real academic distinction in teaching, research and service to the state and nation.

The appointment was made jointly by the president of the Milam County Ex-Students' Association and by the state president of the Milam County Ex-Students' Association and by the state president, Dan M. Krausse of Dallas.

Methodist Home
Plans Boys Ranch

WACO The Board of Directors of Methodist Home has instructed the Program Committee of the Board and Methodist Home officials to "begin immediate plans for the development of a boys ranch program" as another new facility in the Home's expanding child-care program.

The boys ranch will be located about 12 miles from the Methodist Home campus on a 1,500-acre tract of land already owned by Methodist Home. Located about half-way between Waco and Valley Mills on Highway Six, the land is on a beautiful picturesque area on both sides of the highway and stretching down to the Bosque River.

Methodist Home has had cattle and hogs on this land for many years," explained Kennard B. Copeland, Administrator. All beef and pork products needed in the operation of Methodist Home have come from this ranch.

"A home unit (or units) which would house from 15 to 50 boys and their Homeparents, cattle barns and other needed facilities, hopefully, will be built within the next 12 months," he said. Some of the features of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near Amarillo, the Oklahoma Methodist

Boys Ranch at Gore, Okla. and other similar facilities will be considered in the planning and construction of this yet-to-be-named facility.

Probably, some 15 teen-age boys would live in each home unit built. Methodist Home is supported by Methodist churches throughout Texas and New Mexico and cares for children from these two states. The Methodist Home "family of 465 children" includes some 340 on campus, 100 in foster homes and 25 attending college.

Currently under construction on the east portion of the campus in Waco is a $1,500,000 Guidance Center, scheduled for opening in May or June of 1971.

Completion of the Guidance Center and the boys ranch will make Methodist Home one of the most complete child-care centers in the nation.

SEN. YARBOROUGH

Dinner To Honor Sen.
Yarborough

United States Senator Ralph W. Yarborough will be honored with a "Homecoming" dinner at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening, December 15, at the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

Austin attorney Creekmore Fath is service as general chairman for the dinner which is being sponsored by the "Friends of Ralph Yarborough" - "Los Amigos de Ralph Yarborough." Fath announced that Governor Preston Smith is honorary chairman of the sponsors committee and former Ambassador Edward Clark of Austin is the active chairman of the sponsors committee.

"In order to accommodate those who live within easy driving distance of Austin, the dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. and the last item on the evening's program will be over at 9:10 p.m.," Fath said.

Tickets for the dinner will be $5 per person and are available from "The Friends of Ralph Yarborough" - "Los Amigos de Ralph Yarborough," P. O. Box 1000, Austin, Texas 78767.

"I anticipate an overflow crowd for the dinner," Fath said, "since this is the first such function to be held in Austin for Senator Yarborough in over seven years."

Leonard J. (Lenny) Cassell, who has been hailed as the dean of Texas railroad public relations men, retires December 1 as Santa Fe Railway's regional manager of public relations at Dallas after more than 34 years as a charter member of the PR department.

Cassell's entire journalistic and public relations career spans more than 50 years. He has served the press in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, California and Louisiana.

He will be honored by newsmen and fellow employees at a "Salute to Lenny" luncheon in the Embassy Ballroom of the Statler Hilton Hotel Friday, Nov. 20.

Born the son of a famous San Francisco newspaperman, November 27, 1900, Cassell was raised across the Bay in Oakland, Calif. His newspaper career began in 1919 when he was a reporter for such papers as the San Francisco News, the Bulletin, Journal of Commerce, Chronicle and Examiner. He also served as city editor of the San Francisco News and as editor of the weekly Crockett Signal.

In his early public relations career, Cassell worked for political figures, community and religious fund raising drives. He helped found a political party in California, and through legal

Alcoa Promotes
Former PR Man

James A. Knight, Jr., former Public Relations Manager at Alcoa's Rockdale Works, has been promoted to Manager, Community Relations at the Alcoa headquarters in Pittsburgh, Pa., effective January 1, 1971.

Knight, a former director of the Rotary Club and member of the Rockdale Country Club, joined Alcoa at Rockdale Works in 1956 as Public Relations Manager.

In 1961, he transferred to Alcoa's Point Comfort Operations where he coordinated Alcoa's statewide public relations activities. Then, in 1968, Knight returned to Rockdale and continued to coordinate the public relations activities of the three Alcoa locations in Texas: Rockdale, Point Comfort, and Marshall.

In mid-1969, Knight transferred to Alcoa's Warrick (Indiana) Operations where he has been coordinating the public relations for Alcoa operations in Indiana.

Cassell joined Santa Fe to handle a temporary PR assignment for its legal department, but in 1936 the Railway organized its public relations department and he became an original staff member.

Post Office Outlines Dates
For Early Christmas Mail

Postmaster Narvie L. Caperton today urged residents of Cameron to "try to remember" that recommended mailing dates for civilian domestic Christmas mails start the first of December.

The national Christmas "Mail Early" theme this year, he explained, is based on the familiar musical tune "Try to Remember" - and is featured in public service radio and TV announcements.

"The idea," Caperton said, "is to have our customers remember recommended mailing dates. This will insure fast and efficient delivery of parcels and cards and prevent disappointments for friends and family members. Of course, it will also be a big help to your post office."

The suggested latest dates by which Christmas mail should be deposited are as follows, but the postmaster urged customers to mail earlier wherever possible:

Domestic mails, except Alaska and Hawaii - Distant states, parcels Dec. 1 and greeting cards Dec. 10. Local and nearby areas, parcels Dec. 11 and cards Dec. 15.

Alaska and Hawaii: Surface mail Nov. 30 for parcels and Dec. 4 for cards; Air Mail Dec. 14 for parcels and Dec. 14, cards.

In addition, Postmaster Caperton noted several key dates applying for civilian international mail, as follows:

To Canada and Mexico - surface parcels Dec. 4; cards Dec. 9 and air parcels Dec. 16.

To South and Central America - cards Nov. 18 and air parcels Dec. 14.

These same dates apply for the various types of mail for Europe. Earlier, Caperton announced deadlines required on military mail going overseas - Nov. 6 for surface parcels, Nov. 20 for "SAM" and Nov. 27 for "PAL."

Further details on these basic parcel services for the military, as well as dates applying for other mailings to servicemen are also available at the post office.

Report Shows Milam Is
176th Among Oil Counties

Milam County's petroleum industry produces 140,124 barrels of crude oil valued at $449,692 and 16,048 thousand cubic feet of natural gas valued at $2,199 for an annual economic value of $451,891.

These figures, just released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, show the county ranked 176th among state counties in oil and gas production during 1969.

Texas production which has registered an increase over each previous year during the past decade hit another all-time high in 1969 with 1,151,775,000 barrels, according to U.S. Bureau of Mines statistics. This is a production increase of 24.2% since 1960.

"Production from Milam County helped meet this record demand," says Kenneth E. Montague, Association president. "We are now calling on it and the rest of Texas to meet an even greater demand as events in the Middle East have again forced us to dip into our declining reserves. Unfortunately, the price for Texas oil is inadequate to stimulate enough exploratory drilling to replace reserves."

Milam County landowners and others with mineral interests received $56,486 in royalty payments last year. Texas received $20,686 from crude oil production taxes and $156 from natural gas production taxes.

Estimated drilling expenditures totaled $595,135 with $419,391 of that amount spent on dry holes yielding nothing for the driller. Ira Rinehart's Yearbook showed drillers completed 8 oil wells and 9 dry holes. Eight wildcats were drilled with 7 of them dry.

Reports from the Texas Employment Commission show some 19 persons were directly employed by the oil and gas industry in the county with an annual payroll of $54,884.

CHANGE AT ALCOA - There's a change in store for the Storeroom at Alcoa's Rockdale Works when Works Storekeeper L. F. Rogers retires effective Dec. 1. At that time, Stores Supervisor J. J. Wright will move up to the position held by Rogers since July 1960.

HIS HAND

On the ceiling of Sistine Chapel, Michelangelo brings to life some of the most spectacular Old Testament depictions. In one panel portraying the Creation, he shows God reaching out His powerful right hand to Adam, thereby sending out that necessary spark of life which began the history of man. In this familiar scene, the figure of God emanates such power and force that it seems to dominate the rest of the picture. It even diminishes the agony and passion of Adam, the embodiment of longing, searching and lost mankind. Yes, if we were to examine the picture more fully, we would see that not only is God reaching out to Adam, but Adam is also reaching out to touch God. He is virtually straining every fiber in his body to affect this two-way interchange. Michelangelo said it all with the deft strokes of his brush. All too often we are aware that the huge, powerful, healing hand of God, is reaching out to us without realizing that His hand won't reach all the way. Just like Adam, we must reach out in return. God's open hand is waiting --- where is yours?

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department offered an opportunity for a public hearing to be requested by publication on October 8 and 15, 1970 of a notice reporting the proposed improvement of FM 1915, from the end of the present FM 1915, 2.3 miles southwest of US 190, southwest to 0.3 miles south of Little River Slough. No requests for a public hearing were received; therefore, the Residency Office of the Texas Highway Department, at Hearne, Texas, has submitted all of the engineering data and information received in connection with the development of this project for approval of the proposed route and design by the District Office of the Texas Highway Department at Bryan, Texas.

The proposed character of work is to construct a typical Farm to Market Road with a 20 foot paved surface on a general right of way width of 100 feet, and construct a bridge 26 feet wide and 285 feet in length across the Little River Slough. Relocation assistance will be provided for any displacees. Maps (Drawings showing geometric design) and all other available data concerning the development of this project may be inspected and copied at the Resident Engineer's Office, Texas Highway Department, Highway 6 North, Hearne, Texas.
